U.S. Warns 'Rain Of Death' By Bombs In Neutral Zone

THEY'VE BEEN WORKING ON THE RAILROAD

This caboose is the tag end of an eight-car train, first since July 20, 1961, to pass completely through Puerto Suello Tunnel in San Rafael. The other seven cars were loaded with ballast gravel which was dumped Saturday along the right of way in the recently restored tunnel. Regular service will be resumed Monday, more than six years since two boys set fire to the tunnel, doing more than $1 million damage and taking the life of Alto Fireman Frank Kinsler. PLEAS IN ZIP-GUN DEATHS

Quentin Prisoners Moved With Unusual Precaution

By ROSS DAVIS

A phalanx of 15 San Quentin and sheriff's officers, one of the largest contingents of police ever to move prisoners to Marin Superior Court, today escorted two alleged zip gun killers to and from the courtroom.

The defenadnts were in leg chains — a rarity itself — in addition to San Quentin's customary hand-and-neck chains. Yet another unusual precaution, that of moving the two men, Terry K. Campbell, 22, and Clifford Jefferson, 41, from the prison in separate cars with two guards in each, was taken.

A sheriff's car with four officers headed the procession's return to prison after the pair pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity ot the Feb. 24 murder of inmate Ronald Thomas Roberts.

Trailing the sheriff's car and two cars of the prisoners was a fourth car in which two plainclothesmen and two guards, all from San Quentin, were riding.

Non-committal police and district attorney's office officials did not deny the obvious, that a rumor of attempted escape had been heard, but all said the report was only a rumor, and said there was no concrete evidence of such a plan.

Plea entries before Judge Joseph G. Wilson were held out of turn, prior to the hearing of the court's master calendar rather than on the regular criminal calendar which follows. An entire half section of the courtroom was reserved for the two prisoners and their guards.

Courthouse entrances and hallways were heavily though not conspicusly spotted with uniformed and non-uniformed officers. The departure guard was split, with some guards taking the prisoners down an elevator, out the sheriff's office to the awaiting cars, and the remaining officers taking stariways and going outside to coverge on the cars from several directions.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and Undersheriff Sidney Stinson were presenst in the car lot. Lt. W. A. Wagner, in charge of San Quentin transportation of inmates to the courthouse, was present.

There were no incidents and the prisoners were returned safely to prison.

Campbell and Jefferson, both serving life sentences for other murders, are accused of shooting Roberts to death while he was alone in his cell. A homemade zip gun made from a length of pipe, was later found by a correctional officers in a plumbing alley way between tiers of cells.

Today Campbell and Jefferson declared in court that Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales had promised them adjacent cells at the prison so they could better prepare their defense, but that prison officials last week separated them.

Judge Wilson said he could give no credence to this report, since the district has no authority to make such a promise.

He added neither the court nor the district attorney has power to instruct the prison on how or where to keep prisoners.

Following pleas by both prisoners, Judge Wilson appointed two psychiatrists to examine the defendants. He then scheduled Oct. 23 for report by those psychiatrists and for setting of a jury trial date.

Bales said the two defandants are charged with assault with a deadly weapon rather than with murder because if carries a mandatory death penalty on conviction.

250,000 Leaflets Dropped On Villages

SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese peasants living near the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) were warned to flee to South Vietnam if they want to save themselves and their children from a "rain of death and destruction" in massive B52 bombing raids, a U.S. spokesman said today.

The warning came as the giant bombers continued to step up attacks against Communist artillery, mortar and rocket positions in the area which have killed or wounded more than 800 U.S. Marines at the bloody, battered frontier fort of Con Thien since the first of the month.

The massive retaliation against North Vietnamese bombardments by the B52's, 7th Fleet warships and American artillery already has been called by American officials the heaviest concentration of conventional firepower in history. The warning hinted that it would grow even worse.

URGE DEFECTION

The spokesman said that 250,000 leaflets were dropped over the village of Ben Quang on the southern fringe of North Vietnam. It told of the "rain of death and destruction" from the B52's and urged the residents to defect to the south.

The leaflets would be honored as safe conduct passes, they said. The refugees were urged to turn themselves into the "nearest government outpost" which is several miles below the DMZ.

The southern half of the Demilitarized Zone has been turned into a "strip of death" where anything that moves is fair game to American and South Vietnamese warplanes and for artillery which has zeroed in on virtually every inch of the area.

HEAVY CLOUD

The spokesman declined to comment on whether it would be more dangerous for the villagers to risk the bombs, or try to move across the DMZ no-man's land toward the South and risk being taken for Communist troops.

Heavy clouds blanketed most of North Vietnam yesterday, a spokesman said, holding down American warplanes to 74 missions. Most of these, the spokesman said, were in the southern panhandle where planes bombed by radar.

Meanwhile in Saigon, South Vietnamese students, with an American in the lead, paraded in the streets and burned a ballot box yesterday to protest the election of Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu as president.

The demonstration came as militant Buddhists for the first time openly aligned themselves with disgruntled students and defeated civilian presidential candidates. Other demonstrations were held in Da Nang and Hue.

CARRIES SIGN

The American identified himself as Dave Marr, 29, of Berkeley. He said he was a former Marine "doing research" in Vietnam.

He carried a sign which said: "U.S. students also demand peace—now."

There were hints that Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky, the vice president-elect who has been fueding with Thieu, had given his tacit approval to the parade.

Vast Texas Areas Flooded In Storm

HARLINGEN, Tex. (UPI)—The Rio Grande, bearing "one of the greatest floods on record," smashed out dam after dam today along the diversion channels designed to hold it in its banks. Mexican officials said the city of Matamoros could be "totally flooded" in 36 hours.

The mighty river, swollen to three times its normal size with the rains of Hurricane Beulah, smashed out a steel-and-concrete dam last night in the Harlingen area and flooded a normally dry diversion channel.

GIVES WAY

Another barrier gave way today south of Mission, Tex., west of Harlingen near Anzalduas dam.

Mexican officials at Reynosa said the dikes burst there early today and drove 10,000 persons from their homes. Federal authorities warned that Matamoros, downstream could be "totally flooded" within 36 hours.

The second dam gave way today, imperiling an area about four to five miles wide. Thousands of persons fled their homes in the two Texas areas.

FLOODS CITY

The Rio Grande was going down at Rio Grande City but the Weather Bureau said it "will experience one of the greatest floods on record during the next few days."

The levees at Brownsville, 23 feet high, had been expected to hold, but officials began wording their predictions more cautiously, and the Weather Bureau said the Rio Grande would crest at Brownsville at between 20 and 21 feet Saturday.

All residents between the levees and the river were warned to flee for miles up from the Gulf in case water spilled over the top.

DEATH TOLL

The death toll stood at 40-11 in Texas and 29 earlier in Mexico and the Caribbean. The damage total was expected to approximate $1 billion and was still growing. Hundreds of thousands of persons were out of their homes.

The Rio Grande had been expected to be contained all the way to the Gulf by multi-million-dollar diversionary dams and channels and by a levee system around Brownsville and its sister city across the border, Matamoros, Mexico.

But it washed away a 200-foot-long, steel and concrete diversionary dam last night designed

34 Missing In Fishing Fleet Disaster

FRANKFORT, Mich. (UPI)—The list of missing rose to 34 today as Coast Guardsmen and sheriff's deputies searched the wind-whipped shallows and beaches of Lake Michigan for more victims of a savage squall which smashed a salmon fishing fleet.

The bodies of seven victims, all Michigan men, already were recovered.

The wind storm caught about 1,000 boats, nearly all of them small craft manned by amateur anglers, in 25-foot waves Saturday.

Lt. (J.G.) John Shioli, coordinating the search from the Coast Guard station in nearby Traverse City, said telephone calls from anxious relatives today boosted the number of missing fishermen to 34.

Shioli appealed to fishermen who survived the storm to notify the Coast Guard and their relatives.

Confrontation For Romney By Watts Negroes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Republican Gov. George Romney had a crackling confrontation this morning with two youthful Negro militants at his outdoor breakfast in Watts.

The two young men — Tom Jacquette, president of a community leadership group in Watts called SLANT, and Lou Smith, president of Operation Bootstrap—wanted to know what the Michigan governor would do for better conditions for Negroes if he is ever elected President.

VOICE RISES

Smith and Jacquette jumped on Romney's statement in San Francisco sympathizing with California Gov. Ronald Reagan's cut in the Medicare program.

Smith, his voice rising, said the nation is willing to spend billions for war and to "shoot rats to space" but not enough for "poor black people."

Romney, defending his views, said he didn't want the government to get so involved that the American health care system would break down under the weight of red tape. And he cited health care problems in Great Britain.

Retorted Smith, "You are not in Britain, and I'm not talking about that."

Smith charged that when funds were turned into government programs and over to politicians, "you can forget it."

"I am not a politican," Romney said. With heavy sarcasm, Jacquette scoffed, "He a representative of the people."

"I DON'T KNOW'

And Jacquette asked of Romney, "Do you think change can be brought about without violence?"

"I don't know," replied the

A.F. Spending $30 Million On Speed Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is spending $30 million this year to develop a high-speed aircraft with advanced radar to detect bombers attacking the United States.

Called AWACS — for airborne warning and control system — plane would pick up approaching enemy aircraft, track them and send out supersonic U.S. fighters to destroy them.

Defense planners believe the development effort will lead to a revamping of the existing continental air defense composed of ground radars and older interceptors.

The cost could range up to $4 billion if a decision were made to proceed with production and deployment of the system, now in the research state. Protection against the bomber threat is vital in the missile area.

Military men say an attacking enemy likely would hit the United States first with ballistic missiles then send in manned bombers to complete the destruction.

The airborne warning aircraft will, it is hoped, carry what the Pentagon calls "overland radar," computers, information display systems and far-reaching communications to command squadrons of jet interceptors with speeds up to 2,500 mph.

The New York Times said earlier today that the Johnson Administration, which only last week announced a decision to provide some defense of the continent against missile attack, is seriously considering a total revamping of its defense against enemy bombers.

WOBBLY RIDE HOME

Narcotics Arrests After Boy's Story

To a 12-year-old boy, everything went "slow motion and fuzzy" after he smoked a cigarette in San Geronimo and he had trouble riding his bicycle home. He kept falling off.

At home, he told his mother what he had done and his admission Saturday led to the arrest of eight persons on narcotics charges.

The arrests came after sheriff's deputies had raided a group of cabins known as Barnett's Place, opposite the Lagunitas School on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Booked on suspicion of possessing marijuana, was Steven F. Palm, 18, of Saratoga. Booked on suspicion of being present where marijuana was used were Mary Catherine Beightol, 19, of Fairfield; Paulette Elizabeth Palm, 22, and Lawrence A. Palm, 26, both of Davis; Philip Scott Fulkerson, 22, of San Francisco; and Diana Kay Roberts, 18, Richard Ackers Fogle, 21, and Raymond Lee Furrow, 25, all of Barnett's Place, San Geronimo.

Deputies said the 12-year-old boy reported going to the location to look for a school friend. There, he had followed a man into a room and had smoked a cigarette which was being passed around among a group of men and women.

When it was time to go home, the boy said he felt dizzy and sick and wobbled off his bicycle.

Officers said that when they went to the cabins they found the suspects listening to music. One of them, Steven Palm, was reported to be sitting in the center of the room smoking a brass water pipe containing what appeared to be marijuana.

Ths suspects are shceduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

American Motors Raising Prices 3.8 Pct. For 1968

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors said today its 1968 cars will carry price tags averaging $89 or 3.8 per cent higher than those on comparable 1967 models.

AMC thus became the fourth U.S. car maker to increase prices on its 1968 models.

AMC's price hike was smaller in terms of dollars than the increases announced by the Big Three but on a percentage basis it was nearer their figures.

AMC's price picture was complicated by the fact that on its 1968 Ambassadors, or top-of-the-line models, air-conditioners will be standard equipment. They were a $350 option in 1967 models.

AMC said that the change in air-conditioners and in dealer discounts "does not lend itself to a meaningful comparison of price changes. However, the prices of 1968 Ambassadors compared with comparably equipped 1967 models are significantly lower."

According to the auto companies own price figures, which include federal taxes and dealer preparation charges, these were in comparative increases:

General Motors $110, 3.6 per cent; Ford $114, 3.9 per cent; Chrysler $133, 4.6 per cent; AM Motors, $89, 3.8 per cent.

Gromyko Shows 'No Give' On Geneva Viet Conclave

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk got a first hand fill-in today on the latest fruitless attempt by Britain to persuade the Soviet Union to agree to reconvene the Geneva conference to seek peace in Vietnam.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown briefed Rusk at the secretary of state's Waldorf Astoria Hotel suite on his talk Saturday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

As cochairmen of the Geneva Conference on Indochina, Brown and Gromyko have the authority to bring Vietnam before that body, but informants said both sides stood by their well-known position and the Soviet diplomat showed "no give."

Rusk is to give a dinner tonight for Gromyko after conferences separately with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, British Foreign Secretary George Brown and Danish Premier Jens Otto Krag.

Rusk, Gromyko, Brown and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville will be guests of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant at a Big Four "discussion dinner" in Thant's office tomorrow night.

Meanwhile, Eban was to speak today in the U.N. General Assembly's general policy debate, opening public exchange with Arab foreign ministers over how to settle the Israeli-Arab war fought last June 5-10.

The Arab summit meeting in Khartoum Aug. 29-Sept. 1 agreed on united diplomatic efforts to achieve the withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egypt, Jordan and Syria and on "no peace no negotiation with Israel."

But a source in a position to know stressed yesterday that Israeli's position was that any such withdrawal "should be consequent upon peace moves" worked out in direct Arab-Israeli negotiations. He said Eban had found "a large degree of understanding" from other foreign ministers to whom he had stated that position.

Russian Backs Space Sharing

BELGRADE (UPI) — Prof. Leonid Sedov, Russia's top space scientist known as the "father of the sputnik," called today for international cooperation on vastly expensive space programs of the future.

He urged cooperation in a speech opening the 18th congress of the International Astronautical Federation (IAF).

Although he did not specifically mention Soviet-American cooperation, it may signal a breakthrough. The United States has long advocated such cooperation, but up until now the Soviets have spurned it.

Reagan Wins His Sole Ambition —Favorite Son Convention Role

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan of California has won the support of state Republican leaders for what he emphasizes is his sole ambition in the race of the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

The Republican State Central Committee yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution urging Reagan to head a favorite son delegation to the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach next year.

The governor has stressed he is not a candidate for the nomination but his name continues to be mentioned as potential Republican standard-bearer in 1968.

The resolution declared that party unity is essential to a Republican victory and stated, "A favorite son delegation led by Gov. Reagan offers the best hope of preserving Republican unity and effectiveness in California."

The California governor dominated the three-day convention, although he appeared for only an hour Saturday night to deliver a hard-hitting speech to some 7,500 persons at the convention center here.

Reagan was cheered loudly when, sounding like a presidential candidate, he declared, "All over this land there is unrest. The people are ready for a change."

Criticizing the Johnson administration, the governor said "we're losing" the war on poverty and termed welfare programs in the United States "a colossal and complete failure."

Reagan said he was pleased with the favorite son resolution, pointing out the purpose of such a delegation was party unity.

Percy Vows No Primary Activities

WASHINGTON (AP) As Illinois' potential favorite son, Sen. Charles H. Percy vows to go to extraordinary lengths to keep from becoming an active participant in the preconvention campaign for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Percy said in an interview he will have no compunction about signing affidavits disclaiming presidential ambitions in states where that is necessary to keep his name off preferential primary ballots.

REAGAN SLAP

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California has said he would not sign such affidavits because they would conflict with his plan to become California's favorite son and "would make me a liar either in the other states or at home."

It is different with him, Percy said.

"I am not a candidate and I'm not going to campaign," Percy said. "I'm going to stay as far away from it as possible. I haven't made up my mind whom I will support for the nomination and I probably won't until next June."

PRIMARY VOW

Percy has made it clear he will keep his name off the ballot in the nation's first primary in New Hampshire March 12. He may discourage his supporters there, but can't prevent them from launching a write-in campaign.

He says he is determined also to keep his name off the ballots in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon, where affidavits are required for such actions.

California law requires that Reagan enter a slate of delegates pledged to him in a June primary if he wants to be favorite son. Percy, on the other hand, will have to depend on the willingness of unpledged delegates chosen in a primary to designate him as a favorite son and thus will not be the direct choice of Illinois voters.

Cranston Talks Like A Senate Candidate

FRESNO (UPI) — Alan Cranston, former state controller, told delegates to the constitutional convention of the newly-formed Democrats of Central California yesterday he was "a probable candidate for the U.S. Senate next year."

He addressed 118 DCC delegates, representing about 1,800 members of volunteer Democratic clubs in 12 San Joaquin Valley and Central Coast Counties.

Cranston said it was too early for him to make a final decision on his candidacy, but said he was "extremely interested and heartened" by the results of recent polls that showed he was a leading potential Democratic candidate.

He also called for a halt to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam "without prior promises" by Hanoi on its actions following the halt.

Cranston said "all restraints on the hawks will be removed," if either former iVce President Richard Ntxon or California Gov. Ronald Reagan should be elected president.

The DCC elected Horace Massey, Bakersfield, president, and adopted a constitution limiting the group to "local and regional issues."

Massey was one of 20 California Democratic council directors who resigned Sept. 10 over what they said was council preoccupation with the war in Vietnam.

Hitch-Reagan Session Put Veil On Vote

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A secret meeting last Wednesday between Gov. Reagan and Charles J. Hitch reportedly threatened to make Hitch's selection as University of California president less than unanimous.

Reagan's communications director, Lyn Nofziger, confired yesterday the two met in the governor's office last Wednesday, two days before the university vice president was unanimously named by the regents to become president Jan. 1.

Hearing of the meeting, several regents were so angered they threatened to vote against Hitch or abstain from voting, the Los Angeles Times reported. Those unnamed regents favored Hitch personally, but felt the situation looked like a "power play," the report said.

Nofziger said Hitch saw Reagan because he knew he was under consideration and "assured the governor that if a situation arose where he, Hitch, was named president, he wanted to make sure that any differences or problems would be worked out amicably . . ."

Hitch said he told Reagan he was trying to avoid public squabbling, Nofziger added.

Hitch said he had talked with Reagan "from time to time about general support of the university and his attitude toward the university."

After the regents revealed Hitch's selection, Reagan told newsmen he thought Hitch would make a "fine" president.

But the governor added that he had no part in the selection itself—only the voting since he is a regent—because "I didn't want to contribute to the suspicion that there were political implications."

ROMNEY

Michigan governor. Romney said many changes had been brought about without violence, but the changes were not adequate.

Romney also ran into criticism of his Morman religion.

Under Romney's faith, asserted Smith, Negroes would have a "segregated heaven."

"You don't know enough about what you're talking about," said the governor. He said no other faith had more "absolute faith" in the Declaration of Independence and the quality of man.

Romney cited his own civil rights record. Jacquette acknowledged he had heard of Romney's civil rights records, but what we should be fighting for is "human rights."

Romney is on a cross-country tour that appears to be setting new standards for hazards and experiences for American politicians in the 1968 campaign.

Former Novato Physician In A Court Tirade

A former Novato physician, accused of grand theft from Marin County in falsifying claims for treatment of welfare patients, launched into a tirade in court today against what he termed "prejudice" against him.

Dr. Henry Chaker, requesting a change of venue to another county for his case, said there was prejudice because he is an Arab. He alleged that there had been prejudicial publicity in newspapers, including the Independent-Journal.

Marin Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson threatened to have the doctor taken to county jail unless he desisted from his charges. After a repeated warning from the judge, Dr. Chaker stopped and apologized to the court. The doctor now resides in Shell Beach, San Luis Obispo County.

The doctor pleaded innocent to the charge and jury trial was set for the week beginning Nov. 13. Judge Wilson denied the change of venue plea without prejudice, saying the doctor may renew the motion during selection of the jury if he can show prejudice exists.

CARD OF THANKS

IDA MITZLAFF

Either we're charging too little, or everyone else is charging too much.

There was a time when you could walk into a store, plunk down your hard-earned money, and walk out with the comfortable certainty that you got what you paid for.

Times have changed.

Today there are few products that give you as much as you'd like to get for the price that you'd like to pay.

And perhaps that betrays a certain backwardness on our part.

Because our cars still do.

We at American Motors are putting more into cars than just about anyone else around.

And we're charging less.

Rambler American. The only U.S. car that could stop you from buying an import.

At a price very close to the leading import, the American seats six people instead of four.

It gives you nearly twice as much room in the trunk and more than twice as much engine under the hood.

Like the imports, the American doesn't change its style every year, gets about 20 miles on a gallon of regular gas.

Unlike some imports, it never gives you the feeling that you're driving a toy.

Rebel. America's most underrated car.

The Rebel 550 Hardtop is the lowest priced intermediate sized hardtop in America[1].

It looks sporty, drives sporty and still gives you all the things that most people buy a car for.

The Rebel—Hardtop, Wagon, Sedan or Convertible, V8 or 6—is everything we think a car should be.

Before you pay more for an intermediate, make sure you get as much.

Ambassador. The car with air conditioning as standard equipment.

Air conditioning has been around for a long time, but so far only a few companies—the people who make Rolls Royce for one—have had the good sense to include it in their cars at no extra cost.

We're another.

We just don't understand why someone should be asked to pay a lot of money for a luxury car and then be asked to pay over $300 more for the luxury of air conditioning.

Introducing the Javelin.

Although we've always had the reputation for making sensibly priced, well-built cars, we've never had the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

We'll soon have the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

The front and rear bumpers on the Javelin are massive. Unlike thin blade bumpers, these give the car a rich, racy look.

The side windows on the Javelin are solid sheets of curved glass, without vents to break up its fast lines.

The Javelin SST comes with wheel discs, special exterior trim, reclining bucket seats and a woodgrain steering wheel, all standard.

And all for a lower price than the other sporty hardtops!

Who can you turn to?

If you have read this far, then we assume you are looking for more honest value than you have been used to getting from the cars you buy.

And that's a happy coincidence.

Because we stand ready to give it to you.

Prices shown are for Rambler American 2 door Sedan, Rebel 550 2 door hardtop, Ambassador 2 door hardtop, Javelin 2 door hardtop. Federal taxes included. State and local taxes, if any, destination charges, options excluded.

Rambler American. $1,923[1]

Ambassador with air conditioning $2,819[1]

Rebel. $2,431[1]

GOLDEN WEDDING—Mr. and Mrs. William King, in their home in the Black Point area of Novato observed half a century of married life with an open house yesterday. (Independent-Journal photo)

Black Point Couple Married Fifty Years

Schoolmates who became lovers celebrated 50 years of married life at their home in the Black Point area of Novato yesterday when their children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and a few close friends gathered.

Mr. and Mrs. William King of 7 Harbor Drive, Black Point, are the golden anniversary celebrants.

The met when they were in the sixth grade in Maple, Okla., an area which was inhabited principally by Indians.

King was born in Sequoyah County, Okla., and his wife, the former Pearl Walkup, in Van Buren, Ark. The couple met after Mrs. King's family moved to Oklahoma. They dated a year before their marriage.

He farmed in Oklahoma until the couple came to California in 1929. King owned taverns in Bakersfield, Folsom, Sebastopol and Fresno.

In 1955, the couple purchased the Black Point store and service station and ran it for 11 years. They sold it a year ago.

The couple has three children, Clarence King of Sebastopol, Mrs. Opal Crosetti of Richmond and Mrs. Bernice Kahn of Oakland. In addition, they have 13 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

As a surprise to them, King's sister, Carrie, and her husband, Charles Thresher, and King's sister-in-law, Minnie King, all of Chowchilla, Madera County, came to help them observe the anniversary.

King said he has always enjoyed good health. He said also he has enjoyed living in different communities, but Mrs. King said that she would have preferred to stay in one place.

It looks like she will have her way from here on out, since the couple is retired and Bill has taken up gardening.

"We built this house to retire in and don't intend to move," King said.

Rumford Repeal Will Be Made Via Legislature

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California Real Estate Association will plan this week for repeal of the Rumford Act through legislation next year, the group's president says.

Reed Robbins of Stockton said at a news conference yesterday, the association will not sponsor or support an initiative ballot measure to repeal the open housing act as it did in 1964 with Proposition 14. The initiative measure was approved by the voters but later declared unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The 45,000-member association will hold its 63rd annual convention here starting tomorrow. Gov. Reagan will give the keynote address.

Robbins also said the association is working with the Department of Defense to find ways to combat racial discrimination against servicemen seeking housing in the state.

Extra Drinking Hours Approved

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand will abolish its 6 p.m. bar closing of the past 50 years and drink until 10 p.m. as the result of a national referendum.

A provisional count yesterday showed extended bar hours received about 64 per cent of the total votes cast Saturday. Special votes still to be tallied cannot affect the outcome.

Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake has promised to bring the necessary legislation before the House of Representatives soon.

New Zealand introduced six o'clock closing in 1917 as a temporary wartime measure.

Watershed Hit By Big Blaze

UKIAH, Calif. (UPI) —More than 300 acres of watershed have been blackened by fires in three Northern California counties.

A blaze in Lake County, about 8 miles east of Clearlake Oaks, consumed 20 acres yesterday before fire fighters, aided by trucks, bulldozers and air tankers were able to contain it. Cause of the fire is under investigation.

Two fires of undetermined origin in Mendocino County burned a total of 25 acre before being controlled. One fire consumed 15 acres about 10 miles southeast of Hopland. The second blaze destroyed 10 acres near Willits.

Strangle Victim, A Californian?

EUREKA (AP) — Police in Scotland are trying to confirm that a young woman found strangled in a tent near Edinburgh was from Eureka.

Edinburgh police notified Eureka authorities that a body found Saturday night was believed to be that of Anita Harris, 19, who had left New York Aug. 28 for a vacation in Iceland and Scotland. Police said the body had been at a camp site 15 to 20 days.

Miss Harris' father, Noel Harris, said she left Eureka with $1,000 Travelers checks and had planned to spend two days in Iceland.

Moon Probe To Turn On Heater

PASADENA (UPI) — Scientists have ordered America's Surveyor 5 moon probe to turn on its heater in preparation for the two-week-long lunar night during which temperatures drop to 250 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here began shutting down the spacecraft Sunday. When the sun rises over the lunar horizon next month, scientists may attempt to reactivate the hard-working spacecraft to take more pictures of potential manned landing sites.

A LIVE COONSKIN CAP

Skydiver Follows Wife In Plane Death Jump

ROCKLEDGE, Fla. (UPI)— John Wasik was a compulsive skydiver.

"It was just something I had to do," he explained.

When he married pretty Rickey Wasik, 22, last year, she also became a skydiver. "She took it up just to please me," Wasik said.

Last month, Wasik was one of the horrified spectators when Rickey, her parachute rigging tangled, plunged to her death in a cow pasture. Wasik took the same route to death yesterday.

After the shock, Wasik, 27, who had four children by a previous marriage, seemed to be himself again. He returned to his job as aerospace writer for the Melbourne (Fla.) Times and continued jumping with his skydiving club, The Falling Stars.

Yesterday, he went up for the 24th jump since his wife's Aug. 9 death.

Jumpmaster Terry Alford was the first to notice something unusual.

"When we got over the spot and I told him to go, he hesitated for four seconds," Alford said. "It was quite a long time because normally when I tell somebody to go, they go immediately.

"When he exited the aircraft, he immediatley went into a ball position, pulling his feet up underneath him, his hands in front of him and made no attempt, in my eyes, to pull the ripcord," Alford said.

Ground observers watching Wasik through binoculars said the falling man held his hands in the praying position and appeared relaxed.

Wasik hurtled 3,200 feet into a palm tree in a thickly wooded area, a few thousand yards from where his wife died.

The death officially was listed as suicide.

Stops Tormenting Rectal Itch

Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, and Relieves Pain of Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): One of the most tormenting afflictions is the burning itch caused by piles. It's most embarrassing during the day and especially aggravating at night. 'Scratching' only makes the condition worse. No matter what you've tried without results—here's good news.

A scientific research institute discovered a special medication which has the ability, in most cases—to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In case after case, Preparation H promptly stops the burning itch, relieves pain—as it gently reduces the swelling. Preparation H also lubricates, gently soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

American States Ask Halt To Cuba Trading

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Organization of American States (OAS), condemning Cuba for "acts of aggression" against its neighbors, has called for an economic blockade of the Communist island.

The foreign ministers of the 21-nation organization also voted yesterday to ask the United Nations to hear its charge that Cuba is exporting revolution to other nations in the hemisphere.

The OAS called on all friendly countries to halt trade with Cuba until the Castro regime abandons its policies of aggression.

The organization also recommended that sanctions be imposed against ships engaging in Cuban trade, including boycotting them and denying them fuel.

Twenty of the 21 nations—with Mexico abstaining—voted for the trade embargo. All 21 nations supported the move to carry the Cuban issue to the United Nations.

The extraordinary show of unanimity, though many of the resolutions had to be watered down, came after three days of sunup to sundown deliberations.

Search Fails In Recovery Of Body

OAKLAND (UPI) — An all-day search for the body of an Alameda County assistant district attorney, missing and presumed drowned in the Oakland Estuary, was unsuccessful yesterday.

John J. Fox, 32, disappeared Saturday night after he fell from a boat in the Estuary.

Witnesses said he was afloat for several minutes before sinking beneath the surface. Three other persons aboard the outboard boat were unable to reach him in time.

A Coast Guard helicopter and two patrol boats searched unsuccessfully for the body. The search was to be resumed today.

Wounded Ukiah Girl Due Hospital Transfer

SONORA (AP)—Susan Bartolomei, 17-year-old Ukiah girl left for dead on a mountain road by gun-wielding assailants last Aug. 22, was to be transferred today from Sonora Community Hospital to the University of California Medical Center at San Francisco.

Sonora hospital officials say Susan remains in serious condition and is only semi-conscious, with one of the four bullets which wounded her still lodged in her brain.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Bartolomei, were to accompany her on the long ambulance trip.

Meantime, two 18-year - old Ritzville, Wash., youths remain in county jail at Ukiah on charges involving Susan's shooting and the slaying of her boy friend, Thomas E. Braun and Leonard E. Maine are charged with murder in the shooting of Timothy Luce, 17, near Hopland. They also face charges of kidnaping and forcible rape as a result of their alleged drive to the Sierra foothills where Susan was shot and dumped on the road.

The two entered pleas of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity Sept. 11. Trial was set for Nov. 6.

560 Pounds Of Marijuana Held

SAN YSIDRO (UPI) — Customs agents say they have confiscated 560 pounds of marijuana from a panel truck, one of the largest amounts ever seized at this border crossing between the United States and Mexico.

Customs Agent Walter Gates said Sunday that the marijuana, worth an estimated $560,000 on the illegal American market, was found in the truck that crossed the border Friday from Tijuana, Mexico.

The record seizure of marijuana at the border was 600 pounds confiscated last Aug. 25.

Agents arrested the driver of the truck, Harold Littler, an unemployed furniture mover from Imperial Beach.

MICHAEL BERG

ELIZABETH BERG

"Mommy and daddy were fighting"

Boy, 3, Found In Wilderness; Survivor In Family Deaths

AZUZA (UPI) — A 3-year-old boy, who survived four days in rugged mountains without food or water, may be the only witness to the mysterious deaths of his mother and brother and the apparent suicide of his police officer father.

When a sheriff's rescue party found little Michael Berg Jr. yesterday in San Gabriel Canyon, he was unable to talk because of exposure, dehydration and abrasions.

After he was treated at a hospital, however, he told detectives "Mommy and daddy were fighting" before the car his pregnant mother was driving plunged over a 300-foot cliff one-half mile from where he was spotted by rescue workers.

Sheriff's homicide investigator Robert Wood said the boy was unable to elaborate.

"With a 3-year-old, questioning is difficult," Wood said.

Young Michael, the only survivor of the family tragedy, was clad only in blue jeans and a lightweight shirt.

His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Berg, about 25, and his 1-year-old brother David were found nearby last Saturday in the wreckage of their small car. Investigators at first thought it was an accident, but sheriff's detectives later said, "The woman's clothes were torn in a way that did not jibe with a car wreck."

When it was learned that Michael was missing, 25 sheriff's deputies began searching the area around the wreckage on the assumption he was in the car when it went over the cliff.

Officers said the Bergs apparently had been dead three to four days prior to the discovery of the wreckage.

After the bodies were disvovered, investigators went to the Berg home in Pico Rievra, where they found the body of Patrolman Michael Berg, 24, slumped in a chair. A .38 caliber revolver was found nearby

Vandals Cause Death Of Baboon

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A pet baboon is dead because vandals couldn't keep away from his cage.

Three policemen shot the baboon to death in North Mountain Park yesterday after chasing it up a mountain.

Dr. Kenneth Hall, owner of the baboon, asked police to kill it because he feared it would become dangerous if left to roam. The animal escaped from a cage at North Mountain Hospital after vandals cut a hole in the wire.

Hall said the wire had been cut four times previously, but he had always managed to coax the baboon back inside. This latest time the baboon was frightened and fled.

Beating Gear To Be Burned

LONDON (AP) — Canes, birch rods and cats-o-nine-tails will go up in smoke at prison yard bonfires Sunday, the Home Office ordered today.

The fires will mark the official end of corporal punishment in British prisons, although the last man to feel the birch whip got 15 lashes in 1962.

The order applies to 40 prisons that keep the implements, in case a visiting magistrate orders their use. A flogging could be performed only if a magistrate ordered it for gross violence on a guard or incitement to mutiny.

Metal triangles to which men were tethered by their ankles when whipped will be beaten into scrap iron. Cloth and leather pieces used to bind prisoners will be burned.

Accidental Gun Shot Kills Tot

ARCATA (UPI) — A 9-month-old girl was killed Saturday when an accidental shotgun blast ripped through the thin living room wall of her parents' apartment.

Police said Mark Keller, 22, father of the dead infant, was checking the weapon when it suddenly discharged, penetrating the thin, fiberwood wall to the bedroom.

The shotgun blast struck his daughter, Kendra, killing her instantly. Mrs. Keller, who was readying the child for bed, was slightly wounded.

OVER 60 AAMCO SHOPS IN CALIFORNIA

Why thousands of Americans will pass up those smooth, silent new '68 cars and buy this funny-sounding Mercedes-Benz 200 Diesel.

The Mercedes-Benz 200 Diesel: it doesn't look like an ordinary economy car, because it's not.

The extra sound a Mercedes-Benz 200 Diesel makes can mean lots of extra dollars in your pocket at the end of a year.

(And lots and lots of dollars at the end of a dozen years. It's a very durable machine.)

The sound, the savings, and the durability all stem from the unorthodox way the Diesel engine works. If you're fed up with cars that give 8 miles per gallon and need frequent costly tune-ups and beg to be traded after two or three years, this "offbeat" Diesel may be just what you're looking for.

And at $4493 it could be the shrewdest car buy of your life.

The Diesel difference

In the 200 Diesel engine, there are no carburetors. No distributors. No points. No condensers. Not even any spark plugs.

An automatic injection system squirts diesel fuel through tiny nozzles directly into the combustion chambers.

Instead of spark plugs, compression heat within the chambers ignites the fuel (and the big combustion "bang" that results is where that Diesel sound comes from).

It may sound like technical gobbledygook, but this Diesel principle means several dollar-saving things:

1. With no carburetors, points, condensers, distributors or spark plugs to fiddle with or replace, your upkeep costs compared with many gasoline V-8's will plummet over the years.

2. Compared to carburetors, that Diesel injection system is maddeningly exact in metering fuel. Less fuel is wasted before it can be burned.

3. The Diesel burns fuel more efficiently, too. Far less is lost by incomplete combustion than in gasoline engines. Every possible drop is converted into energy to turn the crankshaft. Up goes your mileage.

4. The Diesel burns diesel fuel, not gasoline. And it can be bought cheaper than regular gas. Down go your fuel costs.

What's the catch?

You may have heard that Diesels also bring some less welcome things.

"They make an awful racket!" goes one beef. "You can never find a place that sells diesel fuel when you need it," goes another.

A Diesel pays for its economy by sounding different, true. But the sound is only audible at idling speeds. Once underway, as CAR LIFE magazine found, "many unsuspecting passengers are surprised to learn that they've been riding in a Diesel."

Diesel fuel is sold wherever transports stop—and that's thousands of places across the country. There are bound to be several such stations in your community.

Remember, too, that your 200 Diesel is designed and built to run up to 500 miles between fillings. (That's further than the distance from New York to Montreal.)

No economy touches

Don't be misled by the 200 Diesel's economical running costs into thinking that this is one more tinny little "economy" car. Check closely; you'll find that the 200 Diesel equals or beats other $4500 cars for comfort, finish and driving ease.

For instance, there's every bit as much interior space as you'll find in those big '68 dreamboats. You're cradled in seats that orthopedic physicians helped design to foil muscle cramp and fatigue.

Every 200 Diesel body is hand-finished before painting. When it is painted, it's painted three times and then hand-rubbed. No engine is installed until it passes a 60-minute test run. No car is released until a squad of inspectors give it an unqualified O.K.

You conquer bumps with a fully independent suspension system (the same type found on Europe's costliest sports cars). You stop squarely, with front disc brakes that don't know how to fade. And because the 200 Diesel's body has been welded together—not just bolted—you're spared the rattles and squeaks that plague so many cars after a few thousand miles.

Mercedes-Benz applies 24 pounds of primer and 24 more pounds of undercoating to the 200 Diesel. This is one economical car that's built to last.

A word on safety

Mercedes-Benz pioneered many important safety features, many years ago. Dual circuit brake lines, disc brakes and other items have been standard equipment for years, too. But work continues to make Mercedes-Benz cars even safer—both in avoiding trouble, and in protecting you if trouble should occur.

If The Enemy Blunders, be Sure To Take Full Advantage

An opponent's blunder doesn't do you much good if you fail to take advantage of it. Most declarers got away scot-free when they played today's hand in the National Mixed Team Championship in Montreal a few weeks ago.

UNSUAL PLAY

At most tables West opened a spade, taken in dummy so that declarer could lead the ten of hearts for a finesse. East covered with the king of hearts, and South won with the ace.

In several cases South committed the grievous error of drawing a second and then a third round of trumps. Declarer next led the ten of diamonds to West's king, and it was then possible for West to punish declarer for his carelessness.

West should see that the defenders can get no tricks in spades or hearts. They must hope for two clubs and two diamonds, and this is possible only if East has the ace of clubs.

ONLY LEAD

Having come to this conclusion, West must lead the king of clubs. When this wins, West leads another club, forcing out dummy's last trump. When West gets in with the ace of diamonds he can lead his last club to get the setting trick.

West cannot defeat the contract if he begins the clubs by leading low to East's ace. East must return a club, and South's jack puts West's king in the middle Dummy ruffs out the king of clubs, and South is now safe.

AVOID TROUBLE

Of course, South should stay out of trouble by drawing only one or two rounds of trumps. Until he has set up the diamonds South must leave at least two trumps in the dummy to protect him against a club attack.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner deals and bids one spade.

The next player passes, and you hold:

♠—K Q J 4
♥—10 8 5 3
♦—Q J 5 3
♣—7.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds.

The hand is not quite worth a jump raise to three spades despite the strong trump support and good distribution. Bid your side suit, such as it is, and raise spades later.

A Reason For Slow Readers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Many people read slowly because they unconsciously "read out loud," says a psychologist at the University of California Medical Center.

Dr. Curtis D. Hardyck says even though there "may not be any visible movement of the lips or jaw when reading silently, there still may be activity of the speech muscles."

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Sept. 25, the 268th day of 1967 with 97 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

Born on this day in 1897 was author William Faulkner.

On this day in history:

In 1513, Spanish explorer Balboa crossed the Isthmus of Panama and became the first European to see the Pacific Ocean.

In 1789, the first Congress of the United States adopted 12 amendments to the Constitution —10 of which were ratified and became known as the Bill of Rights.

In 1926, the Ford Motor Company put its workers on an eight-hour day, and a five-day week.

In 1959, the Prime Minister of Ceylon was shot by assassins and died the following day.

A thought for the day — George Bernard Shaw once said: "The worst sin towards our fellow creatures is not to hate them but to be indifferent to them . . . and that's the essence of inhumanity."

RESCUED — Skipper Nels Neilson gazes through the lines of his 38-foot yawl, the Savaina, while being towed by the Coast Guard into the Chatham, Mass., port. He was found yesterday after being lost 10 weeks. (AP Wirephoto)

41-FOOT WAVES

Lost At Sea For 10 Weeks

CHATHAM, Masss. (AP)—A 64-year-old Chicago machinist whose home-made sailboat was disabled by storms in the Atlantic has lived to tell of a 10-week ordeal at sea that included rescuing his one companion, a pet beagle, Sheba.

Nels B. Nelson's trip to Florida was interrupted the night of July 11 off Newfoundland when squall with "waves as high as the 41-foot mast" came up and pulled three staves from the main mast of his 30-foot craft, the Savaina.

After a New Bedford fishing boat found Nelson yesterday about 10 miles off his Cape Cod town and took his craft in tow, Nelson recounted the difficulties that had befallen him and his 3-year-old black and tan beagle.

Nelson, a bachelor, said he went forward to fix the broken mast when "something hit me on the head."

"When I woke up at daybreak I couldn't move my left arm," he said. "The tiller was snapped off, the sails were damaged and the radio ws smashed."

Nelson said he managed to clamp the tiller to the rudder and catch an easterly wind toward shore, using a second mast. He encountered several other storms, but said he knew his two-masted yawl would not capsize "because I built it."

Sheba was washed overboard once, but after several attempts Nelson was able to grab the paddling dog's collar and haul her back into the boat.

Several weeks ago, a ship approached and gave him several loaves of bread.

"I wasn't in trouble then," Nelson said, "So I didn't bother to tell them I was."

Yesterday, he was out of water and had one can of corn, two fish he caught, and four cans of soup.

When he began his voyage, he carried 130 gallons of water and a large quantity of food.

Nelson, who said he has been plying the Great Lakes in the boat since he retired in 1961, began a journey to Florida by sailing to Montreal for a brief visit to Expo 67. He then headed up the St. Lawrence River for the ocean.

A native of Sweden, he said he decided it might be fun to visit his home town of Malmo, located on the coast some 60 miles from Stockholm.

Nelson said he plans to go to Florida as soon as he can repair the Savaina, but will not sail out of sight of land and will go to port every night.

Patrick Hits Reagan Over Primary Move

William Penn Patrick, San Rafael Cosmetics manufacturer and conservative Republican, accused Governor Ronald Reagan yesterday of destroying the primary system for Republicans and of playing politics with California's economic problems.

Patrick issued his denunciation at a meeting of the State Republican Central Committee at Anaheim, where Patrick opposed the gathering drive to declare Reagan a "favorite son" of the state delegation to the June primary.

The San Rafael manufacturer today told the Independent-Journal that he would back Reagan as a favorite son only "if he makes a committment to the people that he wouldn't accept the nomination and signs a blood oath to that effect."

Patrick said that while it is too early to endorse anyone, he regards Richard M. Nixon as the candidate "at present most qualified."

Patrick told the Republican gathering that Reagan had failed to keep his election promises. He charged Reagan with presenting the people of Califrnia their greatest tax increase in history and their biggest budget while "taking the opportunity to blame everything on (Edmund G.) Brown."

Patrick said the governor's plea to be named a "favorite son" at the nominating convention for the sake of unity was hurting the party. He said, "This unity thing, he's talking about cuts out any opposition to (Sen.) Tom Kuchel. He's making it impossible for us to have an effective primary system for Republicans."

$20 Radio Stolen; Belt Cover Taken

A $20 radio was stolen Thursday night from McPhail's Inc., 548 Duboise Street, San Rafael, police reported. An office window was broken to reach the radio.

The drive belt cover of an engine stored in the equipment room under the grandstand at Albert Park, San Rafael, was stolen Thursday night, police said. A lock on the door to the room was forced open.

Clausen Opposes Park Land Swap

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, has urged rejection of a proposal to exchange Muir Woods National Monument and the Kings Range area of Humboldt County with state land for a Redwood National Park.

In a letter to Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, Clausen said, "The consensus of opinion from all concerned is that these two areas should remain under federal management."

Aspinall's committee has been considering recommendations to establish the proposed park.

Spinster Embezzler Dies At 71 In Virginia

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Miss Minnie Mangum, spinster Sunday school teacher who embezzled nearly $3 million, is dead at the age of 71.

She became ill yesterday at the church where she had taught for more than 25 years, went home to bed and apparently died in her sleep. She was dead on arrival at a Portsmouth hospital.

Her sister, Mrs. Lillian V. Eure, with whom she lived, said she apparently suffered a stroke. She had one in prison several years ago.

Miss Minnie, as she was called by her many friends and business aquaintances, was paroled 2½ years ago after serving nine years of a 20-year prison sentence.

Her arrest in December 1955 and the disclosure of embezzlements totaling nearly $3 million brought ruin to the Commonwealth Savings and Loan Association in nearby Norfolk where she had been employed for 28 years.

It was the largest embezzlement in Virginia's history and one of the largest on record in the nation.

A plump and jolly woman dedicated to church work and charitable activities, Miss Minnie appeared to live well within the income she earned as assistant secretary treasurer of the bank.

At her trial she said most of the money she took went to friends and family members as gifts and loans and to charity.

Early in 1956 she was tried on 16 indictments alleging the theft of $2,884,957.06. She pleaded guilty to 12 counts, including one of embezzling more than $1 million.

She quickly established a reputation as a model prisoner at the State Farm for Women in Goochland County, but was turned down by the State Parole Board three times before parole was granted in 1965. A former governor also had refused to grant her a pardon.

Much of the missing money was recovered in a series of federal suits brought against the recipients of Miss Minnie's generosity.

About $1 million was never accounted for.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Name Of The Game Is Female For Hubby Who 'Hunts' Without Gun

DEAR HELEN:

My husband goes hunting every weekend. He used to take his hunting dogs and dress in his oldest clothes. Now the dogs stay home and he wears a good sports outfit. He says he has the old clothes in the car.

Last Saturday I found them out in the garage, together with his gun. And I found lipstick on his right shirt sleeve when I washed Monday.

Would you believe he is "hunting?"—DOUBTER.

DEAR DOUBTER:

Yes. But the name of the game is — female.

Tell your husband this kind of "hunting" can only be done without a license — marriage, that is — and if he'd keep his valid, he'd better stay within the legal limits, fast!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Since you mentioned our daughter, Dorene Giacopini, in your column, the response has been overwhelming. She has received cards, letters, packages from every state and even from boys in Vietnam — some 2,500 pieces of mail and it's still coming.

It is so gratifying to know how kind and thoughtful people can be to a little girl who is going through a trying year. The mail started arriving when her spirits were very low and it gave her a big boost. In the five months she has been in the hospital our seven-year-old has been in several casts and in traction. Her next operation is postponed two months because of infections and other complications and she is only about half way through her ordeal, with ten more operations to go to correct her birth defect. (She was born with an open spine.) We only hope that someday she can throw away her braces and crutches, and with so many of your wonderful readers pulling for her, I'm sure our prayers will be granted.

I'd like to write to each, but hope they will understand and read this heartfelt "Thank You" from—MRS. BERT GIACOPINI, 57 Sunny Lane, Torrington, Conn., 06790.

DEAR HELEN:

In response to the question, "What and who originated the birthday spanking?" how about the doctor who gives the baby his first whack at the moment of birth?—THE BRAIN

DEAR BRAIN:

Good thinking!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I believe it was in your column I read the inquiry about why men's and women's clothing buttoned on different sides. I have heard the reason is that in the olden days, man had to be on the alert and ready to fight — so he could button or unbutton his coat, shirt, etc., while still fighting with his right hand.—MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D:

There they go — discriminating against us southpaws again.

P.S. You didn't read the question in HHU, but thanks for the tip anyway.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

What would you do if you caught your daughter shoplifting? I found some articles in her wastepaper basket, questioned her and she finally admitted she had taken cosmetics and a pair of hose, so that the kids at school wouldn't think she was square. She says the rowdy girls don't like her, and that I just wouldn't understand why she wants this type to admire her, even if she doesn't want them as friends. Help me to help my daughter!—M.O.

DEAR M:

The best help for your daughter might come from an understanding store executive or juvenile court judge who has dealt with this "prove-yourself" syndrome many times before. Make an appointment not as punishment but for much-needed counselling.—H.

IT'S DADO, DADDY

London's Hems Hike Higher

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — London's dollies, originators of the miniskirt, met the first day of autumn with their hems hiked higher than ever.

For the record, today marked the beginning of the second autumn of the thigh-high dado.

A dado, daddy, is a high-class hem.

Despite earlier predictions that come autumn the mini was doomed, the dollies don't see it that way.

SAID PRETTY Susan Gerard: "Of courses the mini isn't finished. I've been up sewing for the last three nights—turning my hems up even further."

Said student Pamela Cahro: "I'm always taking my skirts up. Nothing's short enough."

Barbara Griggs, fashion writed for the Evening Standard, commented: "Miniskirts are not only not going out. They're still going up. They're going up at a furtive, almost unobtrusive rate, a sneaky half-centimeter at a time."

WHAT CHANGES then do high winds of the autumnal equinox bring to the London scene?

Something pretty subtle in the behavior pattern of girls that social historians might note.

As the cool breezes whistle down Kings Road and Carnaby Street the girls are reacting to sudden drafts not by clutching at the swinging hems of their miniskirts, but by grabbing at their hair.

It's also the era of wigs and hairpieces. While the girls don't seem to give a hoot how high their dresses blow, they do want to keep their hair on.

MUSIC REVIEW

Betty Allen Sings In Expert Fashion

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS.

The Marin Music Chest could not have selected a finer instrument than the mezzo-soprano voice of Betty Allen to close its 1967 summer series yesterday afternoon.

Not even an occasional noisy truck on the adjacent freeway could mar the beauty of the occasion in the Forest Meadows setting. For Miss Allen came to sing and she did that in a most expert fashion.

From the opening works by Henry Purcell to the closing American spiritual selections, the audience was rewarded with a truly exciting voice and a magnetic stage presentation.

Miss Allen has a voice of extremely fine shading from the lower register to the top of a mezzo's range. The only minute fault, however, might be in her middle range. But the outdoor arena setting could have played tricks on the ear.

And her program matched the smoothhess of her voice. From Franz Schubert she selected "Gretchen am Spinnrade," "Der Lindebaum" and "Die Forelle." Her German reading was very dramatic.

She followed with what was perhaps the finest part of the afternoon — Seven Gypsy Songs by Dvorak. The richness of her lower register was faultless in Als die alte Mutter (Songs my mother taught me.)

Miss Allen opened the second half of the program with a selection from Verdi's "Il Trovatore" which pleased the attentive crowd greatly. But she really captured it in her next set which included two compositions by Virgil Thomson, including "Praises and Prayers" which Miss Allen had commissioned with Ford Foundation grant. Its theme is taken from "Now I lay me down to sleep. . ."

Following the American spirituals, the audience brought her back for three encores. Included in her extras was an aria from Puccini's "Manon Lescaut."

For this reviewer it was the second chance to her Miss Allen in concert in the past three years. The lapse has fashioned her voice into even a greater one.

Miss Allen is a name to watch in the concert and operatic stages in the next few years. She is indeed ready for greater things.

Kuchel More Convinced Now Of Need For Viet Bombing

SAIGON (UPI)—Sen. Thomas J. Kuchel completed a five-day tour of South Vietnam today and said he was more convinced than ever that a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam "would be a tragic blunder and a self-imposed guarantee of far greater American casualties."

"On five past occasions we have stopped bombing to provide a cease-fire," the California Republican said shortly before flying out of Saigon to Thailand, the next stop on his Asian tour.

"In each instance the Communist North feverishly used the time to bring men and munitions to and through the South Vietnamese border," he said.

Kuchel, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee's Subcommittee on Defense Spending, spent four days touring the war fronts.

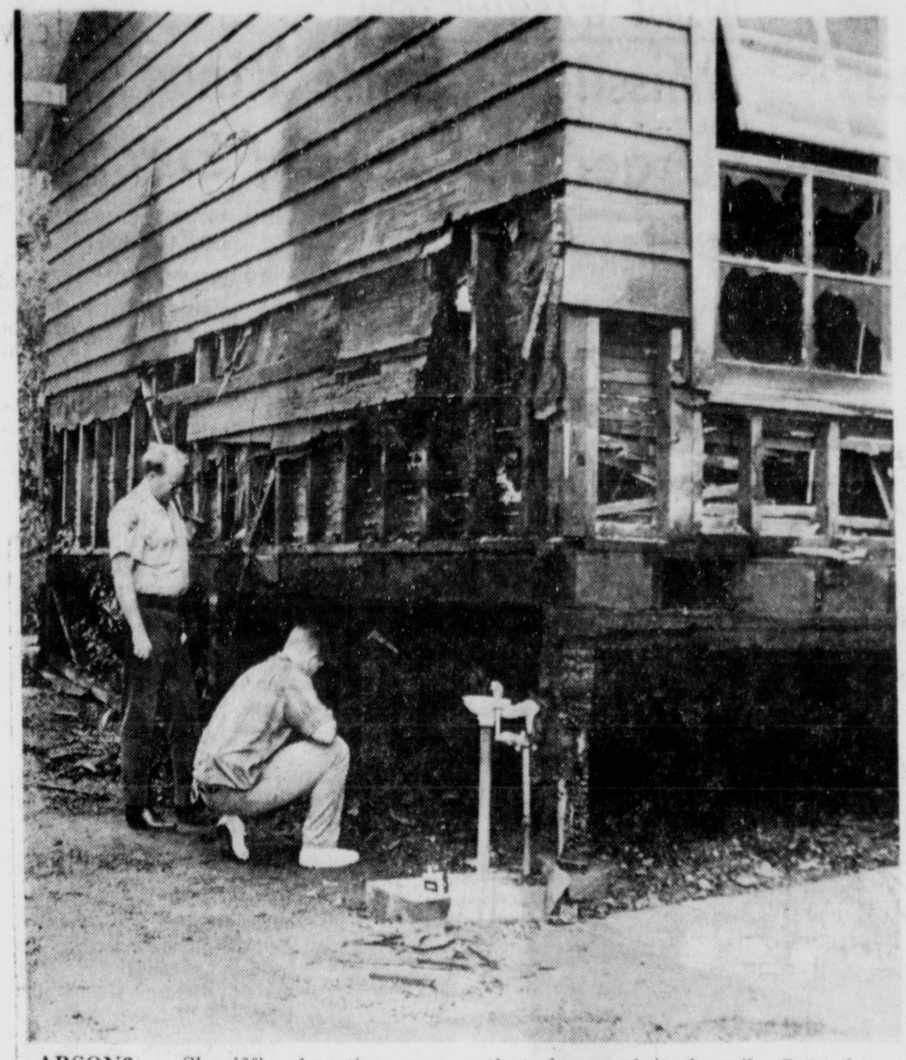
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1967 — 17



ARSON? — Sheriff's deputies examine this storeroom of Bolinas-Stinson School for cause of the fire that damaged it heavily Saturday. There was a "human element involved," they report.

Strawberry Lot Split 'Mistake'

An error by the Marin County Department balked Strawberry residents today in their attempts to overturn a controversial lot split by developer Stanley W. Taylor.

On Aug. 28 ,Taylor was given planning commission approval of the split of a 37,000-square-foot lot on East Strawberry Drive.

By mistake, the planning department advised interested residents they had until Sept. 12 to file an appeal. The law actually allowed only seven days.

Commissioner Hugh Dougherty made a motion to deny the lot split, declaring it would be incompatable with the development of homes on very large lots in that neighborhood.

Then the commissioners learned that neighbors protesting the split had filed their protests of the planning department's approval of the lot split beyond the legal deadline.

County Counsel Douglas Maloney advised the commissioners that even though the error was made by the planning department, the commission had no legal jurisdiction, because the appeal deadline had been passed.

He said the only recourse protesting neighbors had was to file a suit. A general solution for future cases, he said, would be to extend the length of time in which appeals could be made.

In other action today the planning commission approved building a house on a smaller-than-legal lot in Inverness.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Toschi, who own a lot on Sterling Road, near Vision Road, Inverness, were granted their appeal of the county zoning administrator's refusal to allow them to build on a lot which has an average width of 50 feet, less than the 75-foot requirement.

The board majority agreed with the opinion of Commissioner Walter F. Ereitas, who said that the Toschi's property would become "unmarkatable" if the 75-foot width requirement were enforced to the letter.

Police Clear Tiburon Main Street In Riot

Tiburon sheriff's deputies had to call for reinforcements to help quell a riot on Main Street Saturday night.

Sheriff's Deputy John O. Goff arrived on Main Street at 9:44 p.m. to find it full of people identified as members of the Community Guild from Petaluma, he reported.

DANCING IN STREETS

More than 250 people were dancing in the streets and on the sidewalk, drinking from beer bottles and glasses, Goff said. Traffic on the short street was completely blocked.

Goff said his patrol car was met with "boos, cheers and profanity." Two Belvedere police officers arrived to help Goff order the revelers to clear the streets. When they refused, Goff called for more reinforcements and four more deputies responded.

PUT ON BUSES

The Community Guild, still shouting, dancing and drinking was finally herded aboard North Bay Charter Services buses on which they had arrived in Tiburon.

Goff said the street was littered with bottles, cans and broken glass following the incident.

Marin Poet Is Booked For Brandishing Gun

Marin poet Leon Spiro was placed under citizen's arrest yesterday after he reportedly threatened a neighbor with a gun.

Police were called when Santa Tringali of 231 Center Street, San Rafael complained Spiro had grandished a .410 shotgun in his direction.

Spiro, who is renting a cottage at 227 Center Street, denied the allegations.

He was booked into Marin County jail on suspicion of exhibiting a firearm in a threatening manner and was bailed on $550 to appear at Municipal Court Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

The complaint appeared to be the latest in a series between Spiro and the Tringalis, who are renting the house to the poet.

Police were called Friday when Nona Lavona Tringali said she was in the process of evicting Spiro and he was blocking the street with his car. He was given a traffic citation.

Mrs. Tringalis tried to serve the eviction notice on Spiro by throwing it through the open window of his car, said police. But Spiro, editor of a Marin cultural and poetical periodical, threw it out again.

Reed School Figures Given Wrong

Somebody did some very faulty addition for an Independent-Journal story on Reed School District salary increases Saturday.

The lead and headline of the story reported the district board granted raises totaling $67,116. However, the total of raises as detailed in the body of the story was $51,163. This was the whole amount granted in increased salaries at the district board's meeting Thursday night, according to James B. Atkin board chairman.

The district had budgeted $50,000 for salary increases which was exceeded only $1,163 by the raises granted. Additional funds were available from "windfall" state aid under a bill signed into law Aug. 15 by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The Saturday story reported state aid to Reed District totaled $28,000. The amount of the "windfall" — which came after the budget was submitted — was only $17,262, however, according to figures prepared by County Auditor Michael Mitchell.

Stinson School Fire —Human Held Involved

A fire in which there was "undoubtedly a human element involved" early Saturday caused extensive damage at Stinson Beach in a former classroom building now used for storage.

Sgt. Robert Bertrand of the Marin County Sheriff's office said it is not known whether the fire was set or started by accident, but said there was a "human element."

The fire reportedly had burned a considerable time before being spotted at 3:15 a.m. by Stinson Beach volunteer fireman Paul Gladman. It started under the building and caused extensive structural and external damage, but records and school materials inside were reportedly little damaged.

Fire Chief Douglas C. Smith said firemen could not determine the cause. The only wires in the area where the fire started were telephone wires, he said.

Bertrand said evidence was sent to Sacramento for laboratory testing by the California Investigation and Identification Bureau.

The building was condemned for classroom use in 1966 because of potential earthquake hazard.

Touring Car Best Of Show At Concours

A 1911 Chalmers touring car, entered by Robert Wiedenmayer of Novato, won best in show yesterday at the fifth annual Marin Concours d'Elegance at the Peacock Gap Country Club.

The four-door touring car, which Wiedenmayer spent three years restoring, also won best in the pre-1915 class.

Voted most elegant was a 1935 Mercedez Benz owned by Matthew Post of Los Angeles. The hardtop coupe was one of only two built and was a five-time winner of the European Grand Prix in the 1930s.

The concours was conducted by the Marin County Circle for the benefit of the Florence Crittenden Home in San Francisco.

Thick Fog Blamed For Car Injuries

Thick fog on Panoramic Highway Saturday was blamed for a single-car accident in which two Mill Valley men escaped with minor injuries.

John Kerby Anderson, 30, of 166 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, told the California Highway Patrol that, as he drove uphill to turn right on Sequois Valley Road, he couldn't see the yellow line because of the fog and his car slid into a bank at 9:05 p.m.

Anderson was treated for a cut eyebrow at Marin General Hospital. His passenger, Richard Howard Cleverly, 33, of 212 California Avenue, Mill Valley, refused hospitalization for cuts and scrapes on his forehead, patrolmen reported.

Interviews Set

The Bolinas-Stinson Union School District board tomorrow will interview candidates for the board seat left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Edith N. Sarraille. The board meets at 8 p.m. at Stinson Beach School.

There will be a special meeting at 8 p.m. today of the Point Reyes School District Board at the school on Lighthouse Road to discuss possible merger with West Marin School District.

West Marin's directors and representatives of the county superintendent of schools will be present to answer questions.

Wild Ride Ends In Injuries To Car's Occupants

A driver and his passenger were injured yesterday on Highway 17 near San Quentin Prison after a wild ride in a single-car accident.

California Highway Patrol reported the eastbound car driven by Salvador Romero, 34, of National City, San Diego County, hit the center divider at 5 p.m., skidded on loose gravel, swerving back across the road and then rolled onto the shoulder. The car then became airborne and sailed over a barbed wire fence, landing in a ditch.

Romero's passenger, Alice Lopez-Fernandez, 22, of Mexico City, was thrown out into the ditch, according to patrolmen. She was reported in fair conditon today at Marin General Hospital with a back injury.

Romero was also reported in fair condition with cuts, bruises and scrapes.

Trustees Due Report On Site Grading

Marshall J. McCunniff, superintendent of the Lagunitas School District, will report to trustees at 7:30 p.m. today that grading may begin next week at the site of the proposed San Geronimo Valley school.

McCunniff said he has received state approval of a work contract.

Ex-Chauffeur Booked In Burglary

While a Belvedere woman slept Saturday night, her former chauffeur stole two television sets and a pair of binoculars, then fell asleep in his car waiting for police to arrest him, Belvedere police reported today.

Belvedere police officer Terence V. Zink on patrol at 4:45 a.m. yesterday reported he saw Hans J. Rudolph, 29, of San Francisco, asleep in a car on Lagoon Road in Belvedere.

Zink radioed for a sheriff's deputy to assist him. When officers asked Rudolph for identification, he got out of his car and said "I've been waiting for you to show up." He told them he had entered the home of his former employer, Mrs. Henel Carrigan of 72 Lagoon Road, and stolen the three articles, Zink reported.

When notified, Mrs. Carrigan told police she had been asleep in her bedroom and had not known of the theft.

Rudolph was booked at the county jail, then released yesterday on 12,000 bail and scheduled to appear in court Tuesday.

Teeners Held In Marijuana Suspicion

Four teen-agers were booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall yesterday on suspicion of possessing marijuana after being picked up in Tiburon.

Sheriff's Deputy John O. Goff reported he was patrolling Tiburon Boulevard near Mar West Street at 6:16 p.m. when he saw a teen-ager hitchiking and three others sitting on the curb.

As he passed, one boy took a package from another and jumped into a nearby ditch, then returned.

Deputy Goff reported he stopped and asked the boy what he hid in the ditch. Goff found in the ditch a cellophane bag containing what appeared to be marijuana, and another container with five partially smoked hand-rolled cigarettes.

One 16-year-old boy from San Anselmo, one 15-year-old boy and a 15-year-old girl from Tiburon and one 16-year-old boy from Corte Madera were taken to juvenile hall for booking.

Car Passes, Hits Panoramic Bank; Five Injured

Five teen-agers were injured early yesterday in a single-car accident on Panoramic Highway near Bootjack Camp.

A southbound car driven by Michael Hock, 18, of Manhattan Beach, Los Angeles County, passed another car, then hit a bank and swerved into a gully at 3 a.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

Hock was treated for a bruised right temple at Marin General Hospital. Susan C. Foster, 16, of 1212 Idylberry Road, San Rafael, had care for a fractured left ankle; Jody Elliston, 17, of 119 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, for a cut right eyelid; Carol Gardner, 18, of 116 Vendola Drive, San Rafael, for cuts and bruises of her left foot and Carla Weiner, 18, of 125 Birch Way, San Rafael, for face cuts.

Wrong Feline Is Picked Up

Barbara Jean McCoy of 515 D Street, San Rafael, Apt. 15, couldn't tell the difference when she went to pick up what she thought was her pet Siamese cat.

The cat was someone else's pet and evidently could tell the difference. It bit and scratched her.

Police reported the victim received a tetnus shot at Kaiser Memorial Hospital.

Wife Arrests Her Husband For Brawl

Carole L. Buckley of 53 Hillside Avenue, San Anselmo, made a citizen's arrest of her husband, John S. Buckley, 42, for disturbing the peace yesterday at 2:16 a.m., according to San Anselmo police.

Police said she made the citizen's arrest after Buckley allegedly returned home and found Raymond L. Tokarz of 805 Fourth Street, San Rafael, there and started a fight with him. Buckley was released from Marin County jail yesterday on $110 bail.

Black Power Moves Violence To Campus

Menlo-Atherton High School on the San Francisco Peninsula was closed two days last week and reopened with only half the students in attendance. School officials predicted it will take two weeks to get back to normal.

San Jose State College cancelled a football game with University of Texas at El Paso, scheduled for the Spartan stadium.

Menlo-Atherton High School closed because of a campus race riot in which about 50 students were injured severely enough to require emergency hospital treatment. San Jose State cancelled the ball game for fear of similar disorder at the stadium.

BLACK POWER obviously has moved to the campus.

So far, it has not made itself felt in Marin. At Tamalpais High School, the county's only high school with a sizable Negro minority, there has been no hint of agitation since the term started, according to Principal Robert H. Prather.

The issues that closed Menlo-Atherton High and disrupted San Jose State's football schedule were different, but both were linked to race prejudice.

Menlo-Atherton Negro students are mostly from an area of Menlo Park east of Bayshore Freeway. It so happens that the area is within two miles, but over one and one-half miles, from both Menlo-Atherton High, which is in Atherton, and Ravenswood High, in East Palo Alto. Troubles that followed opening of Ravenswood High with a vocational-oriented curriculum caused Sequoia High School District trustees to give the students a choice of which school they attend.

The district bussed students living over one and one-half miles from school. But this year, as an economy measure, it cut out buses for those living within two miles. This denied bus service to the predominantly Negro area in Menlo Park.

This sparked a student strike, vociferously backed by the local chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People. It exploded into violence a week ago.

THE STUDENTS AND the NAACP, however, did not stop with the bus issue. They demanded courses in Negro history and culture, required for all students. The trustees did not act on this demand when they restored the bus service to reopen the school.

At San Jose State, the issue was unequal treatment of white and Negro athletes. Negro spokesmen complained that after being recruited to attend San Jose (with athletic scholarships as lure), they were assigned inferior housing and not allowed at social events for white athletes.

BOTH COMPLAINTS had merit. The bus decision worked a hardship on the Negro students. Certainly it is unconscionable for a college to hold out lures to Negro athletes, then treat them as inferiors. (Involved here is the whole question of athletic proselyting at U. S. colleges, which is a mess as odorous as mistreatment of racial minorities.)

But it is disconcerting to see violence and threat of violence again achieve their ends. It is frightening to see mob rule replace reason.

This is the route Black Power has chosen to take. And every time it wins by this route, law, democracy and civilization itself are that much more weakened.

No Trouble For New York?

Speaking of credibility gaps:

Dr. Horris Ingraham, co-administrator of New York's Medicaid program, in San Francisco Friday for a conference called by Governor Reagan, declared that New York is having no trouble financing the program.

But five days earlier, in a front page story, the New York Times reported upstate counties are facing bankruptcy in financing Medicaid.

The reason behind the difference: in New York, counties and localities bear 25 per cent of the cost of the medical aid plan but have nothing to say about fees or standards for participation.

Maybe Governor Reagan was not so far off in forecasting that Medi-Cal will eventually bankrupt California if not placed under tighter controls.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reagan Would Change Concept Of Welfare For All Who Want It

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Something of a revised attitude in the state's approach to the welfare problem is being urged by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

In brief, the governor is urging welfare for people who justly deserve assistance, and those people only.

This isn't a new attitude. In fact, it probably has been subconsciously in the minds of the taxpaying public ever since the beginning of the liberal welfare giveaways back in the 1930s.

But the attitude of self-preservation in the past 30 years has suffered serious setbacks under the domination of federal and state bureaucracy and a concept that the drone should be given the same consideration as the worker.

Although the governor applies his philosophies to all welfare programs, the issue is being brought to a head as the result of the mess in which the Medi-Cal program finds itself.

IN A RECENT speech, Reagan said that, unless this program is "revised and revamped, it not only can, but most assuredly will, bankrupt our state, and in a very few years."

Bankrupting the state, in fact, has a double meaning. First, it means that the state treasury runs out of money, but what is more important, it means that the people who supply that money must be taxed beyond their ability to pay. So bankrupting the state means actually bankrupting the people who are called upon to pay the state's obligations. Said Reagan:

"There are those among us today who have established the idea that welfare is an inalienable right of the recipient.

"But what of the right of those who work and earn, and share the fruit of their toil to make welfare possible, and those who earn their own way, pay their own doctors and provide for public welfare with their earnings?

"These people are restrained in the amount of care they can afford for themselves."

IT WOULD APPEAR that the time is long overdue when government should start thinking about the welfare of the citizens who pay the bills, and instead of voting billion-dollar tax increases in a state already overburdened with taxes, might consider curtailed spending programs rather than increasing the government aid for those who are capable of caring for themselves but won't.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND REPORTS

President Wants Peace For Overwhelming Reasons

WASHINGTON — The purpose of this column is to try to get at the truth in answer to two questions of deep concern:

Does President Johnson genuinely want to get the Vietnam war to the conference table or is he deliberately putting obstacles in the way of negotiations?

What are the real differences between the Administration and its critics as to what should be done to get peace talks started?

THE TRUTH IS that the President wants peace in Vietnam and to get the negotiations going just as soon as possible.

The idea that Mr. Johnson — or Rusk or McNamara or anyone else in the Administration — is searching for ways to block peace talks is not borne out by the evidence and is contrary to all political reality.

There are plenty of Washington correspondents who are disenchanted with LBJ, but their overwhelming judgment is that the President is earnestly seeking a negotiated settlement.

And why shouldn't he?

HE DOESN'T WANT American soldiers killed and the best way to stop the killing is to get a workable peace.

He doesn't want to lose next year's election and he knows that the one thing which would most insure his re-election would be to get a settlement of the Vietnam war.

His every instinct of humanity and every incentive of political survival combine to cause the President to do everything to get peace short of selling South Vietnam down the river.

HARRY ASHMORE, the former newspaper editor who recently accused the President of "duplicity" because Mr. Johnson did not give as much weight to Ashmore's peace feeler as he felt it deserved, opposes unilateral withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam. So does Senator Fulbright. So do the 15 other "dove" senators who wrote Ho Chi Minh that, whatever their criticisms of the President, they did not favor withdrawal and warned him not to count on the American home front crumbling.

Since the main critics of the Administration on Vietnam do not favor withdrawal, what then are the real differences on peace talks?

The critics hold that the U.S. is to blame for not getting the war to the conference table.

The Administration holds that Hanoi has been completely resistant to every negotiation proposal the U.S. has made.

The critics urge that the U.S. offer one-sided incentive to Hanoi to begin negotiations.

The Administration opposes one-sided incentives.

The critics propose a unilateral de-escalation by the U.S. of the war.

The Administration says it would accept any reciprocal de-escalation that would be agreeable to Hanoi.

These are honest differences, but they do not mean that the President is any less eager to get a settlement than anybody else.

North Vietnam can have negotiations any time it wants — secret or public. The U.S. will negotiate without preconditions or with preconditions, or will negotiate about conditions. No gimmick is needed, no intermediary is necessary. Hanoi has only to name the date and place and the U.S. will be there.

Missile Defense Rings Urged For Japan, Europe

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The U.S. is studying the feasibility of a defense against nuclear missiles for all or part of Western Europe and Japan.

Administration officials say that, although there would be many problems associated with such a move — political, financial, and technical — it could be done.

They estimate the cost at anywhere from $3 billion to $12 billion, depending on the size and type of such an "outer ring" missile defense system.

Thus far the U.S. has not committed itself to such a program, but is merely investigating its feasibility in case its NATO allies and Japan express interest.

The multi-billion dollar question of a missile shield for Europe and Japan is an outgrowth of the Johnson Administration's decision to build the so-called "thin" line missile defense around the U.S.

PROPONENTS IN the administration look to such a system as a possible unifying factor among Western Europe, Japan, and the U.S. Also it could, they say, extend and improve the proposed missile defense system for the U.S.

Opponents contend Western European and Japanese leaders have in the past showed little interest in developing a missile defense system because of the huge cost, and have, instead, appeared content to rely for defense on the deterrent power of the U.S.

Building of a European missile defense system would again raise the question of putting nuclear missiles into West German hands.

Proponents, however, argue a defense system can be designed so its missiles would destroy themselves if fired on any unauthorized trajectory, thus preventing their use as surface-to-surface missiles. The safety devices would also render the warheads inoperative if they were removed from the defense missiles.

LINKING THE SYSTEM — The U.S. has already spent more than $2.2 billion developing the Nike-X advanced anti-missile system for limited deployment around the country.

Under an "outer-ring" defense plan prepared by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the U.S. would offer Nike-X technology to the NATO nations and Japan and help finance development of their systems. The Nike-X system uses long-range radar. Presumably the "outer ring" would extend the effectiveness of this system.

SOVIET DEVELOPMENT — The Soviet Union is already installing a similar defense system around its territory which should be operational by the end of the year.

Once this Russian anti-missile system is ready, as the Joint Chiefs of Staff warned Congress recently, it will tend to neutralize the value of the relatively few missiles planned by France and Britain.

Only the American strategic force with its large number of missiles containing advanced penetration devices would have a reasonable prospect of piercing such a defense.

Thus Europe would lose its independent deterrent and governments, especially Britain and France, would be forced to consider major changes in their future military and political strategy toward Russia.

Since Western Europe is within range of 850 Soviet IBMs a light shield such as that planned in the U. S. would not do much good, according to the U.S. studies, and a tighter defense would be required.

Policemen Must Deserve Respect

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The citizen is constantly exhorted to respect his law-enforcement officers. But cops, like everyone else, receive exactly the degree of respect they earn. How much respect is commanded by a public official with the manners of a peasant? It is going to take a lot of decent behavior to counteract (Fairfax Police Chief James Orr's high-handed, boorish performance. We should all like to feel pride in our local governments and in those who conduct them. This kind of episode engenders nothing but shame.

Defense For Class In Self-Defense

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. (Shel) Saslow may be an expert at judo, but not at the Marin School of Self Defense where countless children have been given self-coordination, confidence and character.

I have yet to see anyone want to quit after twelve lessons, and I have yet to come across a dissatisfied parent.

Many a teen-ager has become an assistant instructor, rather than juvenile delinquent, at the Marin School of Self Defense!

PEGGY MITCHELL
San Rafael

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Saslow's letter 19 Sept. expressed strong opinions concerning the worth of judo instruction at the Terra Linda Recreation Center. Since my organization is responsible for these classes I feel that a few comments are in order.

Mr. Saslow is correct in saying that "judo is an art that takes years to learn" and that 12 lessons can not afford a complete study of the art. Mr. Saslow is not aware that the 12-week course is offered for bookkeeping and class control only. The program has been in existence for over three years on a continuous basis. At the conclusion of any 12-week course of instruction students have the opportunity to enroll in the next session. Some students have studied judo for over three years.

This organization does instruct students in the proper philosophy of judo so that there will be no indiscriminate use of judo. After one warning students who do not abide by the rules and use judo improperly are expelled from the class.

I feel that if Mr. Saslow made a thorough investigation of the entire scope of this program that his feelings would change.

Sausalitans Never Vote Improvements

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re the hot little hassle in Sausalito regarding location of the public library and the so-called factual information being offered so freely, it might be well to mention that the citizenry of Sausalito have never voted any money for a library or any other public improvement that was worth a damn unless it was a money making parking lot.

The only decent buildings in Sausalito have been built with private money. The only money spent by Sausalito has been for so-called planning that has been much ado about nothing. I say, let the people that pay the piper call the tune. How about less noise and more action?

Incidentally, the only decent building on the waterfront is the Sausalito Yacht Club. What has the city ever done to match it? How about letting people like Herb Madden, Don Arques and a few other solid citizens have a say for a change?

State Law Restricts Prescription Costs

Editor, Independent-Journal:

With reference to the letter of Mr. Lional Strongford of Corte Madera written to the editor of the Independent-Journal Wednesday, Sept. 20, it is obvious that Mr. Strongford is a victim of misinformation. With reference to the Medi-Cal program and specifically the pharmacist's handling of welfare prescriptions, I would like to correct the points made by Mr. Strongford.

No. 1 — According to state law, a pharmacist may place the physician's name on any prescription if it is telephoned to the pharmacist by the doctor. This is the case in most welfare prescriptions which come from convalescent hospitals.

No. 2 — Although physicians may prescribe name-brand medication instead of generic medication, the welfare laws state that a pharmacist must use generic medication where possible. The welfare prescription form carries authorization in writing so that the pharmacist may do this without asking the doctor.

No. 3 — There are very few over-the-counter medications which are authorized under the current Medi-Cal program. By state law the price that the pharmacist charges the state for authorized over-the-counter medication must be the retail price which any customer would pay.

I would like to point out to Mr. Strongford that less than 6 per cent of the Medi-Cal budget is used for drug payments. If Governor Reagan's recent Medi-Cal cuts are approved by the State Supreme Court the drug cost will be only 1 per cent of the entire program. In my mind it would be impossible to cut prescription costs any lower than that without doing away with the entire Medi-Cal program!

Curtain Rods As Missile Defense And $30 Billion To Rebuild Cities

WASHINGTON — It now appears the United States is going to build an antiballistic missile system. For the "thin" size system it's going to cost $3.5 to $5 billion; the "thick" one, which the military is opting for, would cost $30 billion.

When the news broke, my friend Cruxman called me and said, "Why do we have to spend $5 billion to build an antiballistic missile system?"

"Because, Cruxman," I said, "the Russians are building one and we have to have everything the Russians have."

"How do we know they're building one?" Cruxman demanded.

"Because they said they were building one," I replied, trying to be patient.

"YEAH, WELL HOW COME if we don't believe the Russians on anything else we believe them when they say they're building an antisystem ballistic missile?"

"You mean an antiballistic missile system. Cruxman, you've got to understand that we would rather not spend the money, but we're being forced into it."

"All right. What about this? Suppose we announce we're building a system missile antiballistic, or whatever the hell you call it, and we stick up a bunch of old curtain rods and obsolete TV antennas and say, 'This is our defense, Boris, so don't go shooting any of your ICBMs toward North America.'"

"It's a good idea, Cruxman, but you forget one thing — the credibility gap. It's all right to lie to our own people, but we can't very well lie to the Soviet Union."

"HOW ARE THEY going to know we're lying?" Cruxman shouted. "As a matter of fact, how do we know they ain't lying?"

"Have you forgotten the 'spirit of Glassboro' so soon?" I asked.

"Yeah, well let's just suppose," he said, "that they announced they were building their antiballistic system missile just so we would go ahead and spend $10 to $30 billion on ours.

"Now suppose, after we get it build, the Russkies say, 'Ha, ha, you've wasted all that money because we don't have an antiballistic missile system. As a matter of fact, not only don't we have such a defense, but we've just discovered our antiaircraft barrage balloons don't even blow up so good.' Wouldn't that make us the laughing stock of the Western world?"

"Cruxman, you're only talking about $30 billion. It's chicken feed."

"LET ME ASK you this question. They're speaking about a 'thin' ABMS to start with. What are they going to protect with it?"

"I imagine the major cities for a start."

"You must be kidding. By the time the build a defense system there won't be a major city left standing in the United States."

"Why is that?"

"Because the cost of making the major cities livable comes to exactly the same price it costs to build a bunch of Nikes around them."

"Cruxman, wiser men than you have been wrestling with this problem for years. We would rather spend the money on other things, but we have no choice. We can't afford to let the Russians bomb our slums out of existence."

"DO ME ONE favor," Cruxman begged. "Ask them over in the Pentagon, just for fun, if they'd stick up some curtain rods and old TV antennas over Omaha and see how the Soviet Union reacts. I'll lay you 5 to 1 they start putting up curtain rods and old TV antennas over Leningrad."

"All right," I promised, "but I don't think I'll have any luck. Once the Defense Department thinks it can get its hands on $30 billion, it's kind of hard to make them let go."

LOST IN SUPERMART

Sad Case Of Ted Lumke And The One-Way Aisle

By JAMES F. DONAHUE

BOSTON (AP) — Supermarkets have become so big and crowded that many have established one-way traffic in their aisles. This can cause tremendous problems, especially for unwary males who are unfamiliar with supermarkets anyway.

Like for Ted Lumpke who was 39 when his wife got sick and he had to go to a supermarket for the first time. As soon as he got his grocery push cart he made a wrong turn down a one-way aisle.

Women began shouting at him: "One way, one way" and giving him dirty looks as they steered their push carts past him.

The store manager came rushing down the aisle waving his arms. "You can't push your push cart east on this aisle," he said. "This is a west aisle."

"WHERE ARE THE eggs?" Lumpke asked.

"Row G, Section A, Shelf 3, eggs, beans and bacon," the manager said.

Lumpke backed out and went to Row G, but it was one way west at his end and he wanted to go east. He went around the store and came to Row G at its other end and there he saw a sign saying Row G was one way east.

That is impossble, Lumpke thought, because if Row G were one way east at the west end and one way west at the east end, then nobody could get into Row G.

Lumpke found the store manager. "There's something wrong with the signs on Row G," he said. "They're west at the east end and east at the west end."

"That's impossible," the manager said.

"COME AND LOOK," Lumpke said.

The manager came, looked and saw the signs.

"It means nobody can get into Row G," Lumpke said. "And what's worse, it means anybody who might be in Row G right now can't get out."

The manager thought about it. "Yes," he said. "But, of course, that's impossible," and he walked away.

So Lumpke threw caution to the wind and pushed his push cart in violation of the west sign east on Row G.

THE SHELVES WERE almost bare and covered with dust. There was dust on the floor and footprints; and grass had grown up in places between the broken linoleum . .

The sign mixup must have occurred months ago, Lumpke thought, even years.

He pushed his cart over the cracked floor between the stripped and dirty shelves, the thrill of the explorer in his heart. He found a starved, emaciated woman against an empty carton of beans.

"Thank God," she said. "They've fixed the signs. I'm the lone survivor of a shopping party trapped in 1961 when the signs were mixed up. I've been existing on eggs, bacon and beans for six years."

"But the signs haven't been changed," Lumpke said.

THE WOMAN'S THIN, cracked face turned white. "But how did you get in?" she asked.

"I went east at the west end," Lumpke said, and the woman could only look at him in wonder.

"Come with me," Lumpke said. He helped the poor woman to the west end of the aisle where they met the store manager.

"Here," the manager said, "you can't come out. This is the west end of Row G, an east aisle."

"But if we can't come out by going west at the east end or east at the west end," Lumpke said, "then we shall have to stay here forever."

"I can't help that," the manager said.

"Without a chaperon?" Lumpke asked indignantly. "In a supermarket, the last bastion of middle-class morality?"

The manager, realizing Lumpke had appealed to a higher law, let them out. "The pure of heart always win in a supermarket," Lumpke said.

"I hope you plan to pay for the eggs, bacon and beans," the manager told the woman.

I learned that assistance to the weak makes the one who gives it strong, and that oppression of the unfortunate makes one weak. — Booker T. Washington.

Even 25 Years Ago—The Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Herald Examiner columnist, looking back into the newspaper's files, found this item printed 25 years ago:

"Common complaint in Los Angeles today was, 'My eyes smart.' The office of Dr. George Uhl, city health officer, received numerous reports of burning eyes and nostrils and sharp headaches.

"Dr. Uhl assured citizens that the condition was nothing to worry about. He said it was due to aggravating effects of gases, smoke and vapor from industrial plants and monoxide gases from motor vehicles. The city health office predicted that the discomfort would be only temporary."

That's right—smog.

Pike Urges All Who Back Viet War To Enlist

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Those who believe the United States is morally right in Vietnam should enlist and "kill, kill, kill," says Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike.

But, he added, an American soldier who is not convinced the United States is acting morally in the Vietnam war is guilty of "individual murder."

The controversial clergyman, Episcopal Bishop of California until his resignation last year said Saturday the United States opposed imperialism in World War II and fosters it in Vietnam.

Pike addressed an audience of 1,000 at a meeting of "Citizens for a Vote on Vietnam," an organization which hopes to place on the San Francisco ballot in November the question of whether the U.S. should withdraw its troops from Vietnam.

THE PENNEY STORY

Should you throw away your iron or keep it as a door stop?

By ROBERTA NASH

Perhaps your iron isn't obsolete just yet. But with Penn-Prest, most women never iron at all. They just let their dryer do the ironing.

(Of course, if you haven't a tumble dryer, you may have to touch up in some cases. But just a touch up.)

Please don't confuse Penn-Prest with some other 'permanent press' process that may have disappointed you. This one is different.

The J. C. Penney Company stands behind it.

Laughter For 49ers But Watch Out Next Week

JIM GILMARTIN

'New-Look' Brodie Surprises 49er Fans

SWIVEL-HIPS — I saw it with my own eyes. No. 12, ball tucked under his arm, running FORWARD! Honest!

The 30,207 spectators cheered wildly, if a bit facetiously, because they were incredulous at the sight of John Riley Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers progressively transporting the oblate spheroid via the overland route.

JOHN BRODIE

John-John, who usually confines his roadwork to lateral or reverse movements — except when he's going to the bank — actually gained two yards (six feet!) on that historic fourth quarter run yesterday as he led the 49ers to a 38-7 victory over the totally inept Atlanta Falcons, the National Football League's answer to the New York Mets.

The forward-progress running experience must have exhausted J.R.B. for on the next offensive series Coach Jack Christiansen inserted rookie Steve Spurrier into the QB slot and allowed his million-dollar ace to bask in his glory on the bench, his handsome head swelling to the cheers of the crowd.

Forty-Niner fans celebrated into the wee small hours today for they detected in Brodie a "new look" instead of the stereotyped quarterback they have become accustomed to — rather, stuck with — during the past frustrating decade.

Rare Imagination By John

Not only did Twinkle-Toes dance and dart and power his way to those two precious yards (72 inches!), his play calling showed some rare imagination. Brodie actually passed on first down occasionally instead of his sure-bet handoffs into the line, shocking not only the Falcons but all the grandstand quarterbacks who can decipher his plays blind-folded from years of experience.

Another Brodie goodie which really shocked the Falcons came in the first quarter. On a third-and-one situation, which in Brodie's textbook means a line smash, he faked everyone out of their long underwear by passing to John David Crow.

Still more imaginative Brodie shockers were to come in the third period. He called a beautifully-executed screen to Gary Lewis good for 29 yards and on the very next play handed off to John David Crow who PASSED to rookie Bob Windsor for 21 yards. Such razzle dazzle!

I tellya, watch out for No. 12. That kid's got a future in pro ball. And what a runner!

Yesterday's game was one of those rare hand-clappers, not only because of the cold, foggy, windy elements, but because the 49ers could do little wrong.

Lewis Had His Best Day

Lewis had his best day in four years of pro ball. In addition to his 29-yard screen gain, big Gary gobbled up 81 yards on 7 carries, including a sensational 52-yard gallop up the middle of that sieve Atlanta calls a defense. With his good hands, speed, power, blocking and open field running ability, I wonder how Lewis would be as a tight end?

Spurrier, the high-priced Florida All-America, showed plenty of poise in his 10 minutes at the controls for the leg-weary Brodie. Steve completed 5 of 7 passes for 62 yards, but will have to throw harder. His soft trajectories would be easy pickings for most NFL defensive backs. Spurrier also punted thrice for a nifty 47.3 average.

Coach Chris subbed freely in the last quarter and it was good to see rookie Elmer Collett, the ex-Tam High star from Mill Valley, get 7 minutes and 22 seconds of offensive line duty in addition to his regular chores on the kickoff and punt teams. Playing behind veteran Howard Mudd, Elmer won't get much of a chance in tight games.

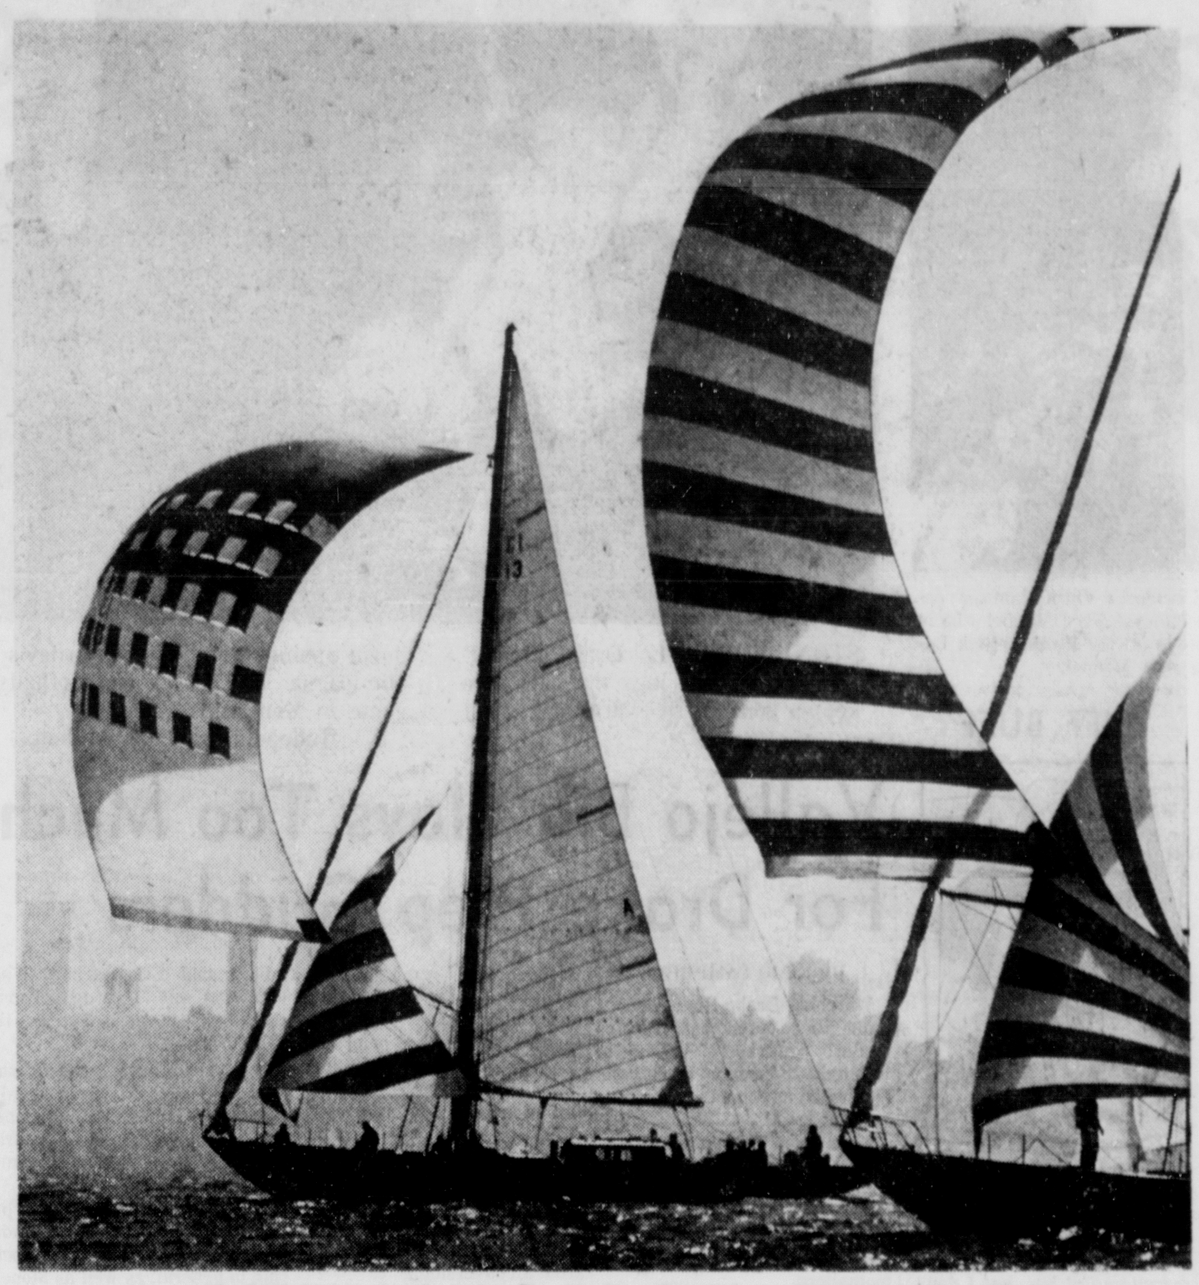
Exciting Runner, That Cunningham

Rookie Doug Cunningham appears to be the most exciting 49er runner since Hugh McElhenny. Doug's speed and maneuverability make him a constant threat on kickoff and punt returns, including a 32-yard punt return yesterday, but I wish Chris wouldn't use him on the kicking team. This kid's too valuable to risk on that Suicide Squad.

The Charley Krueger-led 49er defensive line enjoyed one of its best days, smearing poor Falcon quarterbacks 8 times for 75 yards lost attempting to pass.

The next three weeks loom large in 49er plans with road games against Baltimore, Los Angeles and Philadelphia. By winning two of those three before coming home against fledgling New Orleans, the 49ers then would be in good position.

But off yesterday's game, don't start counting any championship cash. The competition was strictly for the birds, falcon species.



BARUNA SAILS TO CHAMPIONSHIP

With hazy San Francisco skyline forming the backdrop, Belvedere skipper Jim Michael's 72-foot sloop Baruna (left) nosed ahead of Orient in Saturday's fourth and final race in the St. Francis Yacht Club Perpetual Trophy Series. Baruna and Kialoa II of Newport Harbor finished the week-long series tied with 11¾ points each, but Baruna's better overall record of a first, two seconds and a seventh earned the Belvedere-based yacht her second straight St. Francis trophy championship. Following Baruna and Kialoa in final standings were ,in order, Chubasco, Stormvogel, Spirit, Santana, Audacious, Aintra, Orient and Zapata. (Anna-Jean Cole photo)

MIGHTY A.L. RACE

Going Into Home Stretch

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

What ever happened to three days of rest for starting pitchers?

In the frantic American League pennant race which comes to a close next Sunday—barring playoffs—it leaves little time to rest for the weary arms of contending Minnesota, Boston, Chicago and Detroit.

It may just be that 20-game winners Jim Lonborg of the Red Sox and Dean Chance of the Twins will lock up in a pitching duel to decide the flag in next Sunday's finale even though they both won yesterday and will pitch again before next weekend.

Minnesota maintained its half-game lead over Boston yesterday by beating the New York Yankees 9-4 as Chance coasted to his 20th triumph. Lonborg won his 21st and got a little respite as the Red Sox downed Baltimore 11-7.

DETROIT FALLS BEHIND

The White Sox stayed one game off the pace but advanced into third place with a 3-1 victory over Cleveland and Detroit dropped to fourth, 1½ games back, by losing to Washington 5-4. In the other A.L. game, California nipped Kansas City 2-1.

Boston has only four games remaining — against Cleveland tomorrow and Wednesday nights and against Minnesota Saturday and Sunday. Minnesota and Chicago each have five games remaining while Detroit has six.

Red Sox Manager Dick Williams said that Lonborg definitely will start against the Indians Wednesday with two days rest. That's why he lifted the 6-foot-6 righthander after six innings yesterday with Boston leading 7-0.

The Red Sox just did manage to hang on as the Orioles scored an unearned run in the seventh, two more unearned runs in the eighth and four more in the eighth before Dan Osinski finally got the last two outs.

Dalton Jones, Jerry Adair and George Scott each banged out four hits for Boston, with Jones driving in five runs.

FAST START

Chance was staked to seven runs in the first two innings as Bob Allison hit a three-run homer off Yankee loser Steve Barber and Harmon Killebrew collected three hits in three at-bats, including his 41st homer. The Minnesota righthander is expected to start against California Wednesday night and will then come back against the Red Sox.

A nifty relief stint by veteran reliever Don McMahon helped the White Sox keep the Indians in check. He took over from starter Cisco Carlos in the third and didn't allow a runner to reach first until the eighth when Rich Scheinblum and Joe Azcue led off with doubles. Gary Peters and Bob Locker in relief stopped the Cleveland rally.

Don Buford batted in two runs with a single and infield out and Ken Boyer homered to account for the White Sox runs.

The Senators, trailing the Tigers 4-2 in the ninth, rallied as Mike Epstein and Frank Coggins delivered singles. Paul Casanova drove in one run an Doug Camilli and Fred Valentine came through with singles for the victory.

Earl Wilson pitches for the Tigers tonight against the Yankees, seeking his 23rd victory with only two days rest.

Colts Next Foes For Prospectors

Atlanta was a "laugher" for the San Francisco 49ers but Baltimore may be anything but that.

The 49ers, operating at their best against a green Atlanta team, rolled to a 38-7 victory yesterday. This week, though, they go against the Baltimore Colts, who routed the Philadelphia Eagles, 38-6, to match San Francisco with identical 2-0 records.

Gary Lewis, a reserve running back, raced for two touchdowns in the victory over Atlanta and John Brodie threw TD passes of nine yards to Dave Parks and 24 yards to Ken Willard to share offensive honors.

John David Crow ran 23 yards to another score and Tommy Davis booted a 27-yard field goal and added five extra points.

DEPTH

San Francisco coach Jack Christiansen said the fine work of his backup people, such as Lewis and rookie Doug Cunningham for Crow and Willard, Sonny Randle at flanker and Bob Windsor at tight end made a big difference.

"I have confidence in them and it had to make a difference," explained Christiansen. The coach added that this depth is what could carry the 49ers to the title, "provided we stay healthy."

He also pictured the game with Baltimore and one with Los Angeles the following week as the big ones of the season for San Francisco.

"These two weeks will be the big test for us," Christiansen said. "If we can stay healthy and play at peak efficiency then we stand a good chance to win the championship."

TOUGH GAMES

Christiansen said that the team which "is up" will win next Sunday's game. While Baltimore and San Francisco are locking horns, the Rams, who also are 2-0, will be playing the Dallas Cowboys. The Colts, 49ers, Rams and Falcons comprise the Coastal Division of the NFL's Western conference.

Parks hauled in his scoring pass the first time San Francisco got its hands on the ball against Atlanta and four minutes later, Crow bolted on his TD gallop to make it 14-0.

The young Falcons put on their only sustained drive of the game the next time they got the ball and Ernie Wheelright capped a 67-yard 10-play march with a one-yard smash to cut the lead in half.

That, though, was the last heard from the Falcons as the 49ers tacked on three more TDs and Davis' field goal to make it a rout before a home-opening crowd of 30,207 at Kezar Stadium.

It's Same Old Story For Perry

If Giants' fans were the jury, right - hander Gaylord Perry would have little difficulty winning a nonsupport suit against his light-hitting teammates.

The tough-luck hurler allowed the powerful Pittsburgh Pirates only four hits in eight innings yesterday, yet was dealt his 16th loss of the season against 15 victories.

Pittsburgh scored an unearned run off reliever Frank Linzy in the top of the ninth for a 2-0 lead, then hung on while the Giants rallied for a run in the bottom of the inning for a 2-1 final score.

Perry, undoubtedly the most effective pitcher with a losing record in the majors, lowered his earned run average to a tidy 2.63 with the effort, but had his winning streak snapped at five games.

ONLY TWO HITS

The Giants collected only two hits off winning pitcher Steve Blass until they chased the young right-hander in the bottom of the ninth. San Francisco, however, still won the season series from the Bucs, 10-8.

Perry, though he walked the bases loaded in the first inning,

Bulldogs Play Some Keep-Away

Coach Bob Muster's San Rafael Bulldogs played a pretty good game of keep-away with Montgomery High School of Santa Rosa Saturday night.

The Bulldogs had the football for 62 plays as compared to 28 for Montgomery, but they couldn't score until Montgomery had the ball. It came out 6:0.

"It felt like we were sitting on an Easter Egg the whole game," Muster said of the hairy proceedings.

The big play of the game came in the second quarter after San Rafael punter Larry Nelson had left Montgomery on its own one-foot line.

The Bulldog line caught Montgomery quarterback Jay Stimack in a hole, forcing him to fumble in the end zone. San Rafael linebacker Tom O'Donnell pounced on the loose gem for the ballgame.

The Bulldogs had other opportunities, on the 5, 10 and 20-yard lines but couldn't capitalize.

"We were pretty good time consumers," Muster said. "Dick Lomis ran real well for us. We just made a few mistakes again."

The Bulldogs had lost their opener the previous week, 6-0, despite outplaying winning Canyon.

CRUSHED FEELING — Drake defender Clark Jamison appears about to get a boot from Vallejo's Fred Manuel who is off on a 22-yard touchdown run against the Pirates. Rick LaFranchi (29) couldn't catch up with Manuel.

Up-And-Down Day For Redwood '11'

Redwood High School's football team looked like real giants on some plays but on others it looked like pygmies in an up-and-down Saturday game against McClymonds of Oakland.

Coach Bob was happy with the 12-7 win in Kenfield, of course, but frustrated by his team's errors. "I didn't think we did a thing right all day," he grimaced, "but I was real proud of the defense — they had to do it today, and they came through."

That they did, holding the Warriors from Oakland to 96 yards total offense, throwing McClymonds backs, most often quarterback Alvin Stephenson, for 68 yards in losses. The presssure put on by linemen Gary Kasprzak, Terry Cox, Hal Pritchard, Henry Diaz and Bruce Jenkinson forced Stephenson into hurrying his throws — and he often failed to get rid of it before the red-shirted rushers descended on him.

FLASHES

Redwood's offense, dormant most of the second half, showed flashes of real brilliance in the first half. The Giants scored the second time they got the ball, with fullback Pete Richter, the game's top rusher with 80 yards on 16 carries, going for 30 yards in three rushes and speed merchant Larry Blackwell, a beautifully balanced runner, gliding and shifting for a 19-yard gain. Quarterback Jim Peters got the touchdown on a one-yard plunge.

Another score seemed imminent after Peters, with second and 19 in his own territory, passed to the streaking Blackwell behind the Warriors' secondary for 72 yards. But three runs and an incomplete pass failed to cover the 22 yards between Redwood and the goal.

The Giants scored in the second period, after Pat Curley recovered a McClymonds muff on the Oaklanders' 41. An 18-yard sprint by Blackwell preceded Peter's 23-yard TD pass to Skip Schmidt. Another pass failed, leaving the count 12-0 at 9:23 of the second quarter.

CAME BACK

McClymonds came back after the kickoff, grinding it out on the ground until Ken Porter plunged over from the one.

Now Redwood stormed back, driving to McClymonds' nine, mostly on Richter's runs behind good blocking, but a fourth-down pass fell incomplete.

The second half for Redwood was mostly penalties, incomplete passes, and missed opportunities. After Cox recovered a fumble at the Warrior 48, Blackwell fumbled it back. After the Warriors tried a fake punt and were smothered at their own 21, Peters was intercepted at the 16.

Unable to put over an insurance score, Redwood looked fully in charge until the last minutes when a high pass from center ruined a punt at the Giants' 45. A 19-yard Stephenson pass had McClymonds on the Redwood 26 as the gun went off.

Redwood faces defending Marin County Athletic League co-champ Terra Linda at San Rafael next Saturday night. With those defenses, would you believe a scoreless tie?

Disastrous Road Trip For 'Cats

The offense just wasn't there for the Marin Catholic Wildcats Saturday in Oakland.

There wasn't that much defense either as St. Elizabeth's ripped the Wildcats, 32-0.

Coach Joel Kiff's Wildcats were playing without their No. 1 quarterback John Crawford who suffered a broken finger during a practice session last week.

The absence showed. Marin Catholic could stir up only six yards passing and 94 yards total offense, not the kind of numbers that will get you up and down a football field.

Talented halfback Jim Finnegan got 88 of those yards in 18 carries.

St. Elizabeths pounded across a pair of touchdowns on long drives in the opening quarter, added another in the second period and wrapped it up with 13 points in the final quarter.

The Wildcats never did get past St. Elizabeth's 40-yard line.

67-Point Bomb Hits SRMA '11'

The first quarter must have been some kind of premonition because nothing happened.

It was double ohs, 0-0 after the first quarter of the San Rafael Military-Rancho Cotate football game at San Rafael's Academy Staurday.

In what must have seemed like a year later, it was 67-6, and the Cadets had suffered their second loss of the season in as many games.

The Cadets had one streaking, bright moment when quarterback Vic Williams returned a Cotate kickoff 78 yards for SRMA's lone TD of the day in the second quarter, cutting the visitors' margin to 7-6.

And that was the end of that as Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park led 34-6 at the half.

Vallejo Big Plays Too Much For Drake Prep Gridders

By KIMO CAMPBELL

Watching Drake High School's game but outmanned Pirates against powerhouse Vallejo in Kentfield Saturday night was like watching a man push a huge boulder uphill.

No matter how hard or how often the man pushes, once in a while that boulder will start rolling. It was those few times that gave Vallejo's Apaches a 19-7 edge over the scrappy Pirate footballers.

"Take away their big plays and we were playing them nose to nose," said Drake's Bob Franceschini. "We played well, I thought, but you just can't make mistakes against a team like that. The breaks were there, and they took advantage of them."

The first break came on the opening kickoff when Drake's John Brown dropped the ball and Vallejo recovered on the Pirates' 12. On the first scrimmage play of the game, Mike Hedrick passed to Ron Clark for a touchdown with 31 seconds gone.

Drake moved to the Apaches' 35 in the second quarter, on runs by Brown and passes from Stone to flanker Don Alvarado and end Mike Gaffney, but the big Vallejo line, led by Rich Osterkamp (6-foot-3, 240 pounds) and Dick Biama, held the San Anselmo team.

After an exchange of punts, that boulder began to roll. With Fred Manuel and Spencer Davis, a pair of halfbacks as dangerous as a matched set of dueling pistols, the Apaches ripped to the Drake one, where time ran out with first and goal coming up. Whew.

Through the third quarter, the magnificent efforts of the Pirates' line and secondary — led by Perry Hedin, Dan Hermsmeyer, Greg Trimble and Alvarado — kept the Vallejo attack in check. Then Mike Golovich whipped around right end and tore down the sidelines, lateraling to Davis en route, the two managing 64 yards on the play. But Drake held at its own 13. On an ensuing Drake punt, though, Davis tore away for 63 yards to the Buccaneers's nine. In one play, Hedrick-to-Jerry Dewan, it was 12-0, then 13-0 after a conversion.

Finally, Drake broke through the Apaches' defense in the fourth period on a great individual effort by Alvarado, who took a short pass from Stone and ran around Davis, across the field, and down the sideline for 69 yards and a Pirate TD.

After Hedin's place kick, the Pirates trailed 13-7, with 5:43 to go, and just a chance of slaying the dragon from the north.

Until the Bucs kicked off. "We didn't cover the alley, a man was out of position, so instead of a normal return we got what we did," said Franceschini. What they got was 71 yards of Davis, who was bounced out on the Drake 22.

On the first play (a bad habit of Vallejo's) Manuel literally sprinted, bulled, and jumped around, through and over three defenders on an awesome touchdown run.

Franceschini was unhappy with the errors his team made, with pass protection and blocking in general, as well as Stone's passing, but happy with the team's effort and spirit. "We're not deep in material this year," he said, "but we've got some good boys and if we don't have many more injuries — we've got four guards out now — we'll be in there in our league."

Drake plays Novato (2-0) in its Marin County Athletic League opener at Novato Saturday.

Slow Pitch Softball Tournament Results

Saturday's results in the San Rafael Recreation Department's Slow Pitch Softball Tournament at Albert Field:

Hamilton Air Force Base Seregants Association 14, Marinwood Athletic Club 4; E and E Garage 7, San Rafael Jaycees 4; San Rafael Fire Department 3, Fairchild Semiconductors 1; Cal's Steakhouse 20, Dexter Pontiac 3.

Home runs were hit by Flavio Gomez of Cal's and Don Woford off the San Rafael Firemen.

No-Hitter As Braves Triumph

Bob Connolly, Bill Clark and Ron Law collaborated on a no-hitter yesterday as the pitched San Rafael's Braves to an 8-2 victory over the Palo Alto Oaks in the opening of the San Francisco AAA Winter Semi-pro Baseball League at Funston Park.

Walks and an error accounted for Palo Alto's two runs. The victory went to Law who pitched the last five innings.

The Braves' 13-hit attack featured a two-run homer and single by Joe Panella and two singles each by John Laberrique and Law.

GIANTS

had a two-hit shutout entering the seventh inning, but Jerry May doubled and scored on Maury Wills' one-out, two-strike single up the middle for 1-0.

With Perry removed from the game for a pinch hitter, the Pirates pounced on Linzy for the eventual winning run in the ninth. With one out, May singled and was forced at second by Blass.

The pitcher advanced to second on a wild pitch and went to third when Jim Hart booted Wills' grounder. Ex-Giant Matty Alou followed with a single to left, scoring Blass for 2-0.

SEEKS SHUTOUT

Blass, now 6-8, sought his second major league shutout going into the bottom of the ninth, but was lifted after yielding successive singles to Ty Cline and Jim Davenport and a sacrifice to Willie Mays.

Woody Fryman took over and struck out Willie McCovey, whose grand - slam home run Saturday featured a seven-run eight-inning rally that gave the Giants an 8-4 victory.

With Hart at the plate, Cline scored on May's passed ball and pinch-runner Tito Fuentes moved up to third. After Hart walked, pinch hitter Dick Groat forced him at second, ending the game and snapping the Giants' four-game win streak.

San Francisco, which holds a two-game edge over Cincinnati in the battle for second place in the National League, opened a three game series with the New York Mets this afternoon.

Palmer Has A Long Wait Before Pocketing $30,000

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—If you think Arnold Palmer is a tiger on a golf course you should see him sweating out a victory in the locker room.

Arnie charged in with a three-under-par 69 on the final round of the $150,000 Thunderbird Golf Classic yesterday for a five-under-par 283 and then had to wait for more than an hour to learn whether he had won or would face a playoff.

Arnie paced his cage like the hungriest tiger in the jungle.

"It was hell," he said.

But Billy Casper, who once led Arnie by four shots, went into a spin with five bogeys on the final nine. Charley Coody missed a 15-footer on the final green. Art Wall missed a valiant try from 25 feet and finally big Jack Nicklaus blew a six-foot putt that could have given him a tie.

So Arnie won the tournament—his fourth of the year, his 51st on the American PGA tour, the fattest single paycheck of his golden career and now owns the record for the most official money ever won in a single season.

The $30,000 jackpot boosted Palmer's official earnings for the year to $182,393.96.

"This $30,000 is my biggest," he said. Then he added, with the whimsy permitted a millionaire, "isn't that awful?"

Co-Ownership Doesn't Rule Out Estate Tax

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "In reference to your column concerning the inclusion of co-owned Series E bonds in the estate of a decedent, I believe some clarification is in order. Series E bonds registered in two names must be included in the estate of a decedent for federal estate tax purposes. They would pass to the survivor without becoming part of the inventory of the probate estate, but they would not necessarily be exempt from state or federal inheritance taxes." R.S.

A. The column which you mention did not say or mean to imply that estate taxes could be avoided by naming a co-owner. The board rule I quoted meant solely that if a co-owner died, E bonds would become the property of the other co-owner without probate or other legal procedures. The liability for inheritance or estate taxes is present in all co-owned property and should be determined by a lawyer or Internal Revenue official. I am sorry that my statement about co-ownership was misunderstood, and I am grateful to you for clarifying it. I consult my own legal adviser on all tax matters and never attempt to resolve them in this column.

Q. "We are both retired with pensions and Social Security. We have $20,000 savings, also AT&T, General Motors, and Cities service. We need more income. What do you advise, annuity or a mutual fund?" A.S.

A. My advice depends entirely upon the amount of additional income you require. Mutual funds do not afford, as a rule, very much in the way of yield from investment income alone. The return may be substantially higher if you include income from security profits, but this may vary considerably from year to year.

If you are satisfied with reasonably good income from both sources I suggest a mutual fund. If you require the highest possible return with safety and have no heirs to consider, I advise a joint and survivor annuity.

The Amber Griffin Book Store is slated to open Oct. 2 in the downtown shopping center at 1769-A Grant Avenue, Novato, according to Mrs. Beverly Ehreth, owner.

Mrs. Ehreth, a sixth grade teacher at Pleasant Valley School who has been active in bringing Mexican children to Novato, said she felt Novato needed a good book store, so she took it on herself to open one.

Mrs. Martha Greer, for many years secretary to attorney Robert D. Carrow, will manage the store.

Poor U.S. Showing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Britons take much better care of their automobiles than Americans, according to a sports car company executive. It is rare to see a car in England that doesn't look presentable at all times, says Chris Andrews, president of Triumph cars.

THINGS ARE LOOKING UP

American Airlines stewardesses will exchange their standard uniforms next month for chic fashions. The girls even have some leeway in their hemlines. The airline places the ceiling of a mini-skirt at three inches above the knee. (AP Wirephoto)
